Chieftain Seeking Complete Wind-up Capitalist Order

Declares Socialism Only Way Out of Present Economic Chaos—Take Over Banks and Industries

OTTAWA, July 15.—Construction of a new social order was the aim of the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation enunciated in a manifesto released today by J. S. Woodsworth, leader of the movement. The other parties would go before the voters in the approaching general elections with proposals to reform the existing capitalistic system. The C.C.F. would fight for new economic set-up.

LEADER

J. S. WOODSWORTH, leader of the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation and member for Winnipeg North Centre, who issued his campaign manifesto today.

Jumping into the election fray which observers believe will be in full swing in the next few weeks, Mr. Woodsworth followed the lead of Hon. H. H. Stevens, former minister of trade and commerce in the Bennett government, and now leader of the Reconstruction Party, and issued his campaign manifesto. It will be the official platform of the Co-Operative Commonwealth Party, and reads as follows:

Two years ago, at its first annual convention in Regina, the C.C.F. announced its program for the construction of a new social order in Canada. We reaffirm that program today as the only one offered to the Canadian electorate which deals adequately with the present economic crisis.

We appeal for support to all those who refuse to believe that a community blessed with our great nat-

U. F. A. WILL NOT SUPPORT H. H. STEVENS

To Follow Own Policy Developed Years Ago Priestley Says

CALGARY, July 15—The United Farmers of Alberta have developed a policy over a period of years and have not waited until a crisis as has now developed has overtaken them, Norman F. Priestley, U.F.A. vice-president, said here last night in commenting on a report from Toronto that the United Farmers of Ontario issued a statement supporting the new Reconstruction party led by Hon. H. H. Stevens.

A new leader with a new policy has appeared just a few weeks before an election, Mr. Priestley said. The U.F.A. is not going to follow this new leader but will follow a policy they developed years ago, he added. Its aim is to set up in Canada a co-operative commonwealth government. The U.F.A. supports the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation in the federal field.

GIRL, FIANCE DIE TOGETHER

KITCHENER, Ont., July 15—Two hours before they were to have been married, 19-year-old Kathleen Alice Britton and her fiance, whose name was believed to be Clarence Johannas, were found shot to death today in a paper covered shack. Two shots were heard by persons near t' Johannas shack and the bodies were found together. Police could not immediately establish what caused the shooting or who was responsible.

ENGLAND PILES UP BIG LEAD

LEEDS, England, July 15—England piled up a commanding lead in the third test cricket match with South Africa by scoring 177 runs for three wickets in its second innings at close of play today.

England made 216 runs in the first innings against South Africa's 371.

Winnifred Kydd May Be Named For Senate Toga

By THOS. WAYLING
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, July 15—Senator Cairine Wilson is to have feminine company in the senate. At least one woman will be included in the Prime Minister's senatorial list which will be announced some time this week.

Miss Winnifred M. Kydd, president of the National Council of Women, is prominently mentioned. Mrs. Plumptre of Toronto also has a chance; Mrs. Vankoughnet of Toronto is mentioned.

Mrs. George Black, wife of the former speaker, was a possibility but is going to contest her husband's seat in Commons, the Yukon constituency.

MAYOR ISSUES NEW ORDER TO END RED TAPE

Wants Extra Powers For City Departmental Employees

In an effort to speed up civic business by eliminating as much "red tape" as possible, Mayor J. A. Clarke issued an order to departmental superintendents Monday to the effect that in future employes of departments would have the right to take instructions direct from commissioners and also supply commissioners with any information they desired.

DELAY OCCURS

This new order follows a complaint by the mayor that the former method by which dealings with the commission board and departments were done through the departmental heads was too cumbersome and in some cases resulted in delay. "I want the subordinates to have the power to give us any information we require, as well as take orders direct from myself and Commissioner Mitchell," the mayor said in explanation of his action.

MOON GOES INTO ECLIPSE

NEW YORK, July 15.—You can look at the moon in total eclipse tonight and tell whether it is cloudy in such places as Russia, South Africa and Hawaii.

If it is cloudy in those areas of the world, the moon will be invisible to all except the sharpest eyes during the hour and 41 minutes of total eclipse around midnight, Eastern Standard time.

But if there are fair skies in those far corners of the earth, you will see the eclipsed moon dimly, as a copper-colored ball.

DUCE CREATES MORE TROOPS

By ANDRUE BERDING
Associated Press Foreign Staff

ROME, July 15. — With war between Italy and Ethiopia regarded as virtually inevitable, Premier Benito Mussolini today ordered mobilization of another regular army division and the creation of an additional division of Blackshirt militia.

Il Duce also ordered the immediate construction of 10 new submarines.

An official communique said, "the accelerated rhythm of military preparation by Ethiopia forces us to proceed with additional measures of military character."

McGeer Backs Demands Relief Camp Strikers

By THOMAS WAYLING
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, July 15—Mayor Nolan on Sunday night received a wire from Mayor McGeer of Vancouver reading:

"Have just wired Premier Mitchell Hepburn as follows: Every true Liberal is in sympathy with demands of relief camp men for a program of work with fair wages. In view of what has happened in Vancouver and Regina, no Liberal can condone the activities of relief camp strikers who have proved their willingness to resort to lawlessness and violence to gain their ends.

"Urge you to co-operate with Mayor Nolan of Ottawa in preventing a recurrence in our major capitol of the riots and tragedies that have been inflicted upon Vancouver and Regina. Liberalism should stand first for peace, order and good government and it cannot condone treason, lawlessness or mob violence as a means of securing political reform."

INCREASE IN C.N. TRAFFIC LOOKED FOR

Hon. C. P. Fullerton and S. J. Hungerford Arrive in City

Satisfaction with business conditions at present and hope for increased traffic in the fall, was expressed by Hon. C. P. Fullerton and S. J. Hungerford, chairman of the C.N.R. board of trustees, and president of the road, respectively, who arrived in Edmonton Sunday evening on a special train.

Other Canadian National Railway officials in the party were J. Edouard Labelle, K.C., Montreal, a member of the board of trustees; H. J. Dixon, chief engineer of the western region; A. E. Warren, vice-president of western lines; C. R. Brown, chief engineer; W. J. Black, director of colonization and agriculture; and Bruce Boreham, press representative. W. I. Munro, superintendent of the Edmonton district, was also aboard the special train, having met the party at Saskatoon.

Mrs. Fullerton was the only lady in the group.

REASON FOR OPTIMISM

Crop conditions, much improved over those of last year, give reason for optimism concerning fall business, the officials said. The C.N.R. is well equipped to handle all grain movements which may result from a bumper crop, they stated.

Queried as to possibility of construction of a new rail outlet for the Peace River country, Mr. Fullerton gave little hope for such a project at the present time and stated that policy of the railway is to contract service rather than expand it.

ELIMINATE DUPLICATION

Working in co-operation with the C.P.R. the Canadian National Railway is seeking to eliminate duplication of service and several pleas in this respect are before the board of railway commissioners at the present time, it was stated.

BASTILLE DAY RIOTS FLARE

PARIS, July 15.—Hundreds of thousands of men, women and children in rival political camps disputed a "dictatorship" and paraded Sunday in huge Bastille Day demonstrations.

The Nationalist veterans' organization Croix de Feu and its leftist enemies led by a Socialist deputy clashed at Limoges. Several were injured.

Later there were brief scuffles between rival factions at Dijon and Strasbourg, but nobody was hurt, and officials said all France was calm. Leftists announced 400,000 marched in their five-hour procession here.

3 BOYS DROWN WHILE BATHING

BARNES CROSSING, Sask., July 15.—Three boys were drowned and a fourth rescued with difficulty by another bather in the Beaver river here today.

The dead:

ELMER ESAU, HENRY FREESEN, both of Barnes Crossing;

DAN BLATZ, of Rosthern, Sask.

A fourth boy, Dave Freisen, had been pulled under the water when Art Esau, also a member of the swimming party, affected a rescue.

Blast Entombs 95 Coal Miners

FUKUOKA, Japan, July 15.—Rescue workers were striving desperately Sunday to reach 56 coal miners buried when three of their comrades were killed by a gas explosion yesterday in the Mitsui mines here. Rescue efforts had gone on all through the night.

Evansburg Woman Dies At Banff

BANFF, Alta., July 15.—Mrs. W. Earley of Evansburg, Alta., collapsed and died here Sunday while walking between two mineral water pools. In ill health, Mrs. Earley had come here with Mr. and Mrs. A. Norris of Edmonton. The body will be sent to Edmonton on Tuesday.

Railway Aides Are Optimists

Police Rescue Aged Bride From Tar, Feather Mobs

Combining a tour of inspection of the Canadian National Railway with the official opening of the Edmonton Exhibition, where he will officiate Monday evening, Hon. C. P. Fullerton, chairman of the Board of the Canadian National Railways, reached Edmonton on Sunday night, accompanied by President S. J. Hungerford and other officials of the road, including Hon. J. Edouard Labelle, K.C., also a member of the Board. Above, left to right, front row, are Hon. J. Edouard Labelle, K.C., Hon. C. P. Fullerton, S. J. Hungerford and A. E. Warren, vice-president in charge of western lines. Back row, left to right, H. A. Dixon, Winnipeg, chief engineer, western region; C. B. Brown, Montreal, chief engineer of the system, and W. I. Munroe, Edmonton, Alberta superintendent.

Residents Disapprove Wedding

ERIE, Pa., July 15.—Julius F. Sweitzer, 68, and his 86-year-old bride are honeymooning under duress at an Erie hotel, their home wrecked by neighbors and other residents of the town who disapproved of the wedding.

Guy King, 64, son of Mrs. Sweitzer by a former marriage, is in jail charged with shooting to death Lawrence Field, a neighbor, after King had chased Sweitzer from his mother's home. Police said Field, hearing an argument between the two was seeking peace.

Sweitzer and his fifth wife were married at Clymer, N.Y., by Justice of the Peace J. Albert Eckards, Jr., several days after King was arrested for Field's death, which occurred July 3.

About 500 persons, carrying tar and feathers, visited the aged couple's home yesterday. Their tributes consisted of a storm of missiles which broke the windows. They tore the railing from the porch and burst inside.

Police and firemen forced their way through the crowd, rescued Sweitzer and his bride and took them to the city jail for safe keeping. Then they sent the newly-weds to Erie.

SEVEN DEATHS BY DROWNINGS MAKES RECORD

Heavy Toll Taken in Alberta's First Day Heat Wave

Seven deaths by drowning were marked up as the toll of Alberta's week-end heat wave. All the deaths were the result of bathing fatalities as those drowned sought refuge from the heat in the cooling waters of lakes and rivers.

At Dunstable Thomas W. Morrison, 24, single, lost his life while bathing in a slough near the town. The body was not recovered.

George Kasowski, 31, was drowned in the Pembina river, also while bathing, near the Flatbush Ferry.

Near Sedgewick 16-year-old Allan Scott Clarke was drowned Sunday afternoon while swimming in Iron Creek near his parents' farm. He was being taught to swim by a boy friend and despite frantic efforts of his father, Wallace Clarke,

Del Fontaine's Head Affected: Is Murder Alibi

LONDON, July 15. — Allegation that Raymond Bousquet, Winnipeg boxer charged with murder, who had been affected in the head by his ring battles, was made at at the coroner's inquest today on 21-year-old Hilda Meek.

Bousquet, known in the ring as Del Fontaine, is accused of shooting the girl, with whom he had been friendly for a long time, and also of shooting her mother. The affray occurred at the Meeks' home last week.

The inquest was adjourned until October 1. Bousquet is to make an appearance in police court, for preliminary hearing, on Friday.

Tongue Cut Off In Auto Mishap

MONTREAL, July 15.—Belief Frank Norris, 32, of New York, might be unable to speak for the rest of his life was expressed by physicians here today following a motor accident in which Norris' tongue was almost completely severed.

Salary-Grasping Government Fears Irate Electorate

Liberal Leader Invades Premier Reid's Constituency to Deliver Virile Two-Fisted Arraignment

MINBURN, July 15.—Facing his ninth capacity meeting in a five-day whirlwind speaking tour through the country north and east of Edmonton, Mr. W. R. Howson, K.C., provincial Liberal leader, on Saturday night held the platform here for more than two hours. Despite the heat of the evening more than 300 people crowded the town hall and standing room was at a premium.

The Liberal leader was invading the Vermilion home constituency of Premier R. G. Reid, supporting the candidacy of Arthur Hunter, and the Howson address was a two-fisted straight-from-the-shoulder discussion of provincial issues, heightened by the fact that a battery of U.F.A. local leaders was present and to the front with many queries during the question period.

NO GOVERNMENT TODAY

Mr. Howson emphasized the fact that today Alberta is without a constitutional provincial government, for on July 11 all memberships in the provincial legislature expired.

"The so-called U.F.A. government today is nothing more or less than an overholding tenant with a defunct cabinet of ex-ministers who sullenly refuse to vacate, their grasping hands clutching tight the taxpayers' money. Greed

ROME, July 15. — Mrs. May Katherine Thompson, 40, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and H. N. Scott, British subject and director of the American Express company in Italy, today were found dead in the sulphur baths at Acque Albule.

LONDON, July 15.—The Duke of Kent, King George's youngest son, substituted for his brother, the Prince of Wales, today, to open the sixth international congress for scientific management.

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, July 15.—Juan Pombo, the flying lover from Spain, started off from here today on another leg of his trans-Atlantic quest for the hand of his Mexican sweetheart.

THE HAGUE, July 15.—Gort Von Der Linden, prime minister of the Netherlands during the Great War, died here today at the age of 98.

SAN ROOSSORF, Italy, July 15.—Princess Marie Adelaide, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel, was married today to Prince Leone Massio, member of an old Roman family, in the presence of members of the ruling family and 580 Italian aristocrats.

OTTAWA, July 15.—The capital awoke today to a new strike situation—a walkout of its garbagemen. Teamsters and loaders, numbering 44, converged on the city hall after walking out today and protested three men had been dismissed for refusing to work overtime.

TORONTO, July 15.—R.C.M.P. officers today applied to the Supreme Court of Ontario for a mandamus authorizing removal from jail here of Mat Shaw, "On-to-Ottawa" trekker, wanted in Regina for trial in connection with the recent riot in that city. The case will be heard at Osgoode Hall tomorrow.

BERLIN, July 15.—With Chancellor Adolf Hitler setting the pace of hospitality, all Berlin from Hohenzollern princes to thousands of plain citizens, today made welcome the British delegation of war veterans which arrived here yesterday.

LONDON, Ont., July 15.—Joseph Elliott, Hamilton, and Joseph Powers, Montreal, were sentenced today to four years in penitentiary and eight lashes each for the "torture robbery" of Fred McDonald, 16-year-old farm hand of Mount Brydges.

Exorbitant Interest Is Charged By Banks Ontario Premier Says

TORONTO, July 15.—Premier Hepburn agreed with Ontario mayors that municipalities were being charged exorbitant interest rates by banks, and stated he was contemplating amending the law to permit the savings office to lend money to the municipalities at a lower rate.

"Would the government have the support of all the municipalities if it took such a step?" he asked. "I don't see how there would be any opposition," replied Mayor H. E. Wilton of Hamilton, president of the association.

SUPPORT OF MAYORS

"You would have the support of 61 mayors," said Mayor George Wenige of London.

Mayor P. J. Nolan of Ottawa thought this would force bankers to a general cut in interest rates.

"How much do you pay?" Mr. Hepburn asked Mayor I. A. Smith of Kitchener. "Five per cent," was the reply.

"That's out of all proportion to money values today," declared Mr. Hepburn.

AT THREE PER CENT

"We can borrow all the money we need at three percent, or less. We can get American funds at one per cent but we would have to obligate the province to pay in American funds. They are calling up and offering to buy our three per cent bonds at a premium."

"Why not borrow this money and lend it to the municipalities through the Provincial Bank," suggested Mayor Wenige.

WANTS ADVICE PROVIDED

"That's what I have in mind," replied Mr. Hepburn.

Mayor Nolan suggested the province give smaller municipalities the services of a skilled financial adviser. Regarding unemployment as a national problem, the mayors urged that Ottawa be asked to assume the entire cost of relief.

10,000 CHINESE MEET DEATH IN TERRIFIC FLOOD

Collapse of Dike Exposes Immense New Stricken Area

HANKOW, China, July 15. —Ten thousand lives were lost today when the Han river poured a seething torrent through a breach in the dikes on the Hanyang side of the stream, according to Chinese advices reaching here through crippled communication facilities.

NANKING, China, July 15.—The collapse of 600 feet of the great Mahwa dike today exposed an immense new area of central China to inundation. The dike stood as the main bulwark of three provinces against the Yangtse.

Chinese advices said six densely populated counties were blanketed with the Yangtse's overflow, ousting several millions of people from their homes and lands. Government officials here minimized the reports.

The Mahwa stretched for 65 miles along the river front of Anhwei, Kiangsi and Upeh provinces.

Government officials reported that the Yellow river, which has

POLITICAL CONUNDRUMS UNSOLVED

MRS. WALEY IS FOUND GUILTY ON 2 CHARGES

To be Sentenced Wednesday for Part in Weyerhaeuser Kidnapping

TACOMA, July 15.—Reports the government was closing in on William Dainard, fugitive "brains" of the George Weyerhaeuser kidnapping, continued to circulate here Sunday while Mrs. Margaret Waley awaited in jail the pronouncement of sentence for her part in the crime.

CONVICTED SWIFTLY

The 10-year-old Mrs. Waley was convicted swiftly of both "Lindbergh law" and conspiracy charges by a federal jury Saturday for her allegedly unwilling participation in the $200,000 kidnapping of curly-haired George Weyerhaeuser.

In four hours 45 minutes a jury of 10 men and two women waded through legal technicalities to reach the decision:

1—The nine-year-old timber fortune heir had been taken across the Washington-Idaho line by his kidnappers, thus warranting application of the "Lindbergh law."

2—She assisted actively in transporting the boy across the state line.

3—She actively conspired, despite her protestations to the contrary, with her husband, Harmon Waley, and Dainard to snatch the boy and collect $200,000 ransom.

LIFE SENTENCES POSSIBLE

Federal Judge E. E. Cushman set next Wednesday morning for pronouncement of sentence. Life sentences are possible on both charges. On the other hand the law sets no minimum.

Mrs. Waley said in a statement:

"I am satisfied with the verdict as I told the truth and tried to plead guilty. I did not know I was in a criminal conspiracy until my husband was involved in it, after which I went through with it rather than betray to the man I love."

Earlier, sitting in the courtroom waiting for the judge to enter, she talked with U.S. Marshal A. J. Chitty.

Chitty quoted her as saying:

"My goodness, I hope that jury doesn't acquit me."

Thrice she had attempted to plead guilty, but Judge Cushman rejected that.

MAIL, PASSENGERS LEAVE BY PLANE

Mail and four passengers for the northern flooded area form the load aboard a Canadian Airways Ltd plane that will leave Cooking Lake for Grande Prairie Monday afternoon. Matt Berry will pilot the machine.

Pilot Louis Leigh brought six passengers from Grande Prairie Saturday and returned north Sunday with two passengers and a heavy load of express.

and others present could not be rescued. His body was recovered one hour later. He is a grandson of J. M. Clarke of 10854 124 street, Edmonton, and a nephew of Mrs. Scott Hamilton.

DROWNS IN LAKE

Fred Neighbor, Jasper high school student and son of Rufe Neighbor of the Athabasca ranch, Entrance, lost his life in a small lake about three miles from the ranch at about 4 p.m. Sunday.

With two companions, Mrs. Abe Reimer and Miss Rehill, he was thrown into the water when their boat capsized. Other members of the picnic party of which they formed part, rescued the two women, and Rufe Neighbor made heroic efforts to save his son, almost losing his own life in the attempt. He managed to reach the boy but was so exhausted himself that rescue was impossible and artificial aid was necessary for the father when he was pulled ashore.

The body of the boy was recovered fifty minutes later but artificial respiration proved unsuccessful.

SWEPT FROM RAFT

Near Canmore, Nick Eliuk, 29 was swept from a raft on the Bow river as the raft passed under a tree and disappeared in the swollen river before aid could reach him.

Near Lethbridge, L. Tinsley, a farmer, picnicking with his family, was drowned in Chin Lake when the father went to the rescue of the boy who slipped into a deep hole. Mrs. Tinsley and two younger children were helpless witnesses of the double fatality which occurred Saturday afternoon.

Canada's Trade Shows Decline

OTTAWA, July 15.—Canada's total trade in the month of June declined by $5,310,490, according to figures issued today by the national revenue department. Exports had a value of $52,787,076 and imports $46,730,570. This compared with exports of $58,642,552 and imports of $46,158,902 for June, 1934.

The greatest decline was in the export of wheat which dropped from $14,367,142 to $5,148,602.

eral election, "commending" it to the "Ontario farm people."

In a statement signed by R. J. Scott, president, and H. H. Hannam, secretary, the U.F.O. announced:

WELCOME ACTION

"Having been concerned for many years with the social and economic problems facing the farmer and indeed the Canadian people as a whole, we welcome the recent action of Hon. H. H. Stevens in breaking away from the old line parties, taking an independent stand and giving vigorous leadership for social and economic reconstruction.

"We appreciate the courageous crusade he has been and is waging on behalf of the rank and file of Canadians.

BEING IN HARMONY

"Having studied the program of his Reconstruction Party we recognize it as being in harmony with pronouncements made by our people from time to time both in convention and in the House of Commons. We, therefore, commend it to the Ontario farm people.

"Since U.F.O. riding associations have complete autonomy in the political field, the responsibility for definite political action lies within each constituency."

The United Farmers of Ontario was the first organization of farmers to come into prominence in the Dominion. It was formed in the 1900's, after several other farm organizations had been started and later petered out.

Its development was followed by farm organizations in western Canada.

In 1919 the U.F.O. elected an Ontario government with Premier E. C. Drury at its head. Three years later, however, it passed a resolution which still stands, which forever put the organization out of politics as a provincial party.

Stevens Gratified At U.F.O. Support

MONTREAL, July 15.—Gratification that the United Farmers of Ontario had pledged support to his party was expressed here last night by Hon. H. H. Stevens, leader of the Reconstruction party, who is in Montreal to attend an organization meeting.

Mr. Stevens said he was encouraged by pledges of support from all over the country. Prospects in the province of Quebec he found much better than he had expected.

Organization from east to west was his immediate objective. He will leave for the west in a week's time and will cover the territory in seven or eight days. Later he will leave for the maritimes.

Mr. Stevens was not ready to make any definite announcements. His candidates' names could not be announced for a little time, but Mr. Stevens said he was encouraged by the way in which the people were rallying to the Reconstruction party.

Domestics In Winnipeg Ask Two Half Days

WINNIPEG, July 15.—Winnipeg's domestic servants want two afternoons off per week, not just one, and they're going to do something about it. They have organized a drive to unionize all servants here, and will demand a minimum salary of $12 monthly.

$300,000 MAY BE COLLECTED TAX PAYMENT

Total collection of $300,000 is estimated for the second instalment of current property taxes due Tues. day, July 16, Thomas Walker, city assessor and tax collector, stated Monday in urging taxpayers to make their payments on this date and avoid penalties.

Collections for the first six months of this year totalled $1,905,-900 as compared to $1,112,000 for the corresponding period last year. The 1935 total includes $824,000 paid last January under the tax prepayment plan, prepayments in January, 1934, being $632,000.

The levy for this year is $3,745,-000.

General Promoted

LONDON, July 15.—General Sir Archibald Montgomery - Massingberd, chief of the Imperial general staff, Friday was promoted to the rank of Field-Marshal, in succession to the late Viscount Byng.

He has been chief of the Imperial general staff since 1933.

Stevens believed his party was fortunate in the type of man already rallying to its banner.

Woodsworth Unimpressed

WINNIPEG, July 15.—J. S. Woodsworth, leader of the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation and federal member for Winnipeg North Centre, was unimpressed here Sunday on learning the United Farmers of Ontario had endorsed the new Reconstruction party led by Hon. H. H. Stevens.

"The executive of the U.F.O. speaks for only a few hundred farmers and when the matter is considered by the constituencies I do not think Stevens will draw many votes.

Mr. Woodsworth felt the support for the Reconstruction party would come from the small business men of Toronto opposed to the big retail stores.

"But anyone who understands the program of the C.C.F. will not be led aside by Stevens' new policy which he has opposed all along in the commons," he said.

The C.C.F. leader indicated that in every case during the Bennett regime when the C.C.F. introduced reforms in regard unemployment and finance, which the Reconstruction party now advocating, they were voted down or talked out "with Stevens sitting pat on the government side."

APPEARANCE OF STEVENS' PARTY FEATURE OF WEEK

Date of General Election, Reaction of Old Line Parties to Birth of Reconstructionists Still Remains Mystery.

OTTAWA, July 15—Such major political conundrums as the date of the general election, reaction of the old line parties to the birth of the "Reconstructionister" headed by Hon. H. H. Stevens, and the names of those who will be chosen for the numerous senatorial and other vacancies, remained unsolved today after a week of cabinet council activity.

Appearance of the new party headed by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett's former minister of trade and commerce, was the political feature of the week with the announcement by Mr. Stevens in Ottawa last Sunday, and the release in Toronto Friday, of the party's platform.

Mr. Bennett declined to make public comment on either event and Liberal leader W. L. Mackenzie King remained equally silent. Mr. Stevens' declaration he would have a candidate in every riding led to some belief the general election date would be advanced but there was nothing to support such an opinion.

Although it is known cabinet council wrestled long and often during the week with the necessary decisions on choice from a long list of applicants of those who will occupy the 17 vacant senate seats and the score or more of important judicial and administrative posts awaiting occupants. No appointments were announced.

NO DETAILS KNOWN

Efforts to arrive by negotiation through diplomatic channels, at an agreement by which Japanese objections to trading conditions with Canada might be satisfied, occupied the government to a great extent during the week, but no details of the discussions were made known. Routine matters also called for considerable activity among the ministers. Mr. Bennett was expected to have started last week for a fortnight's sojourn at some point in Europe for the benefit of his health and to prepare for the rigors of a campaign. But he is still in Ottawa and was unable to say when he might get away.

Nine Suspects Held

COTEAU STATION, Que., July 15.—Quebec provincial police took nine men off an Ottawa-bound freight train here early today in the belief they were connected with the hunger march of unemployed to Ottawa. Names of those arrested were not given out immediately.

Alarms Sounded In Hankow City

HANKOW, China, July 15.—The roaring Yangtze River moved nearer toward engulfing Hankow last night when it ripped a section 10 feet deep and one third of a mile long from the Changkung dike, principal bulwark protecting the city.

Alarms were sounded that the dike was disintegrating. The city took on mad activity to forestall the prospective disaster. The entire military garrison was called out for dike repairs while civilian authorities ordered thousands of coolies and refugees from other cities to help.

BALLAST RUSHED IN

Swarming humans rushed ballast into the weakening bulwarks. Army and civilian trucks thundered across the city carrying relays of men, materials, food and kerosene flares.

While repairs went forward on the Changkung dike, other thousands of workers began building a secondary defence behind the weakened dike section. Pile drivers drove great timbers into the earth.

As Hankow fought to live, advices arrived from Changking saying additional rains had caused the river to rise three feet there, which means additional torrents here.

USE BAGS OF BEANS

So scarce had ballast become that earth was being stripped from any available space, including private gardens and grave mounds, leaving coffins exposed. Five thousand bags of beans went into one minor breach when earth-filled bags were unavailable.

The rushing waters were laden with many bodies, 200 were recovered, including a group of seven with arms interlocked, presumably a family that perished together.

"We are making a last stand," an official told the Associated Press. "If we fail, Hankow is lost."

Dispatches to the Rengo (Japanese) News Agency in Shanghai said dikes around the city of Hanyang, near Hankow, had broken and half the city was submerged.

Loss of life and property was not estimated. Frantic residents of the city of more than 100,000, made their way to Hankow.

Salvation Army Officers Leave

In the Eventide Home dining room on Wednesday a farewell dinner will be tendered to Adjutant and Mrs. C. Calder, who have been in charge of that Salvation Army hostel in Bonnie Doon for the past seven years.

Major Mat Junker, social service officer, will preside and a public farewell will take place at 8 p.m. Adjutant and Mrs. Calder have received marching orders, being appointed to Subscribers' Work in Calgary. They will be succeeded here by Adjutant and Mrs. J. Van Roon, who are coming from Toronto.

be abandoned if the board of commissioners proves agreeable. One of these, the Lac Ste. Anne branch, was considered by a recent sitting of the board in Edmonton. No definite information as to other possible abandonments was available at the present time, they stated.

Excellent condition of C.N.R. traffic facilities in western Canada was stressed by Mr. Fullerton.

GOOD ROADBED

"The roadbed we travelled over today reminded me of the crack line between Toronto and Montreal. On one stretch today we were travelling 76 miles per hour," the trustee chairman said.

Stopping over at Wainwright for two hours, the special train reached Edmonton at 11:10 p.m. A group of Edmonton exhibition officials greeted Mr. Fullerton. The party registered at the Macdonald hotel. The officials will leave for Jasper following the official opening of the Edmonton exhibition by Mr. Fullerton, Monday evening at 8 p.m.

MOTORISTS! THIS IS MEANT FOR YOU

With all the city to park in, side streets, lanes and avenues off 101, motorists are asked by the police department and the Exhibition board, to NOT park on Jasper avenue Tuesday morning during the prosperity parade.

The two mile long cavalcade will need plenty of room to roll along on, and private cars parked at the curbs of Jasper will not only hamper the progress, but will also block the view of pedestrians from the sidewalks.

If you do leave your car in the forbidden areas you may spend anywhere from five minutes to the rest of the day looking for it. Police, with the permission of Mayor Joe Clarke, police commissioner, will have a fleet of wrecking trucks ready to drag private cars out of the line of march. They'll be parked off Jasper anywhere the wrecking car drivers may find space.

So PLEASE NO PARKING on JASPER TUESDAY MORNING

PARTIES LINE-UP FOR COMING BATTLE OF BALLOTS

C.C.F. CHIEFTAIN WANTS ABOLITION CAPITALIST ORDER

tural resources and equipped with our machinery for wealth production, must continue to suffer indefinitely from poverty, unemployment and insecurity.

We appeal to farmers and to industrial workers, upon whom the suffering of the present depression has fallen most directly and who know from the bitterness of their experience how profoundly Canadian capitalism has failed.

We appeal to technicians and professional men and women to whom our system offers no wider and more creative opportunity of public service than is there today.

APPEAL TO WOMEN

We appeal to women in every section of the community because our program offers them peace. And for their children the hope of health and happiness.

We appeal to the young to enlist in the high adventure of building a new world, and to bring the special gifts of youth—imagination, audacity and energy—to that great task.

SOCIALIZED ORDER

We believe that the Canadian people must aim at nothing less than the establishment of a planned and socialized economic order which will make possible the most efficient development of all our resources and the most equitable distribution of the national income. The great obstacle which stands in the way of this today is the monopolistic concentration of economic power in the hands of a small group of big financiers and industrialists who exploit the masses of the people for their own private profit and who refuse to allow the machinery of production to work at full capacity unless they can levy toll from it.

The essential task before us is to oust this arbitrary irresponsible plutocracy from power and to bring our economic institution as our ancestors brought our political institutions, under public control and administration.

Both of the old parties have now been compelled to admit the need of some reforms in our present economic system, but both are half-hearted in their professions. When the Conservative cure-all of high protection failed, the prime minister announced his conversion to a policy of reforming the capitalist system. But the puny legislative measures of the current session, most of them admitted by their authors to be of doubtful constitutionality, bear as little resemblance to the high flying promises of the radio speeches as do the government's achievements on unemployment to its promises in the 1930 elections.

DISPLAY OF IRON HEEL

With so little positive performance to his credit, the prime minister is now reverting to his more congenial attitude, and we are being treated to another display of the iron heel. The arbitrary treatment of the relief-camp strikers is characteristic of the callous indifference to human suffering which has been shown by the government since 1930; and the efforts to frighten the country into a panic over supposed Communist plots show a marked resemblance to the methods of Fascist adventurers in Europe.

The Liberals are trying to slip back into office without committing themselves to any program whatever. Their low-tariff professions should be tested by the record of broken tariff promises by Liberal governments in the past.

They talk about restoring free competition, but have no proposals for dealing with the monopoly conditions in most of our great industries and businesses which make free competition impossible.

They talk about liberty, but the liberties in which they have shown active interest in this parliament are those of such organizations as the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

The liberties of evicted householders, of unemployed men and women on relief, of farmers laden with debt, of labor leaders attacked under section 98, have been left to be defended by the C. C. F. members of parliament. Genuine liberty for the masses of people is impossible without economic equality.

The Liberal party is, in fact grooming itself to take the place of the Tories as the party of big business. It holds out to our industrial and financial plutocrats the promise of even less state regulation and control than they have had to fear from the present government.

MASS MOVEMENT

The C.C.F. is a democratic mass movement, independent of all other groups and parties. Its program of social reconstruction as outlined in the Regina Manifesto is the only real hope to all classes for emancipation from the insecurity and inhumanity of our present economic system.

At the present time we emphasize especially the following point:

7—Security, in this age of potential plenty there is no excuse for failure to provide economic security at a reasonably high standard of living for everyone.

In the current unemployment crisis the immediate duty of government is to see that relief is administered on a scale which will maintain decent living conditions and guarantee the workers freed from the distress and degradation to which they have been subjected during the past five years.

As a permanent policy for dealing with the risks of modern industrial society the C.C.F. advocates the establishment of a national system of social insurance with adequate benefits against unemployment, sickness, accident and old age, together with socialized health services. The worker must be protected by a national minimum wage and the farmer must be guaranteed an adequate minimum income as the first charge on his production.

2—Finance, socialization of our banking and financial machinery is necessary if we are to make use of the national credit for purposes of national development.

Control of finance is the first step towards control of the whole economy.

REDUCE DEBT BURDEN

We cannot advance in Canada unless the present burden of debt, public and private, is drastically reduced; and this cannot be done as long as financial power remains in the present hands. We cannot allow ourselves forever to be held in the gutter by these so-called sacred obligations to bondholders. It is intolerable that we should be required to sit and wait indefinitely for measures of orthodox relief, private enterprise has failed and use its financial power to initiate a far-reaching program of public expenditure for the purpose of increasing employment and of equipping the community with badly needed public works and services.

Housing, slum-clearances, hospitals, libraries, schools, community halls, parks, recreation centres, reforestation projects, rural electrification are examples of enterprises on which we should embark. The appalling living conditions to which thousands of our people are still condemned during the depression call for a nation-wide housing crusade under the direction of the national government and financed by the cheap credit which only the national authority can provide. Housing should be regarded as a public utility and the responsibility for it no longer left to private speculative builders and landlords. And the clearing of rural slums as well as those in the big cities must be a part of this responsibility.

4—The constitution. The amendment of the B.N.A. act is undoubtedly necessary so as to give the national government adequate powers to deal effectively with economic problems which are essentially national in scope.

NEED OF POWER

The price spreads investigation has shown the need of power in the Dominion government to regulate wages and working conditions for the protection of our industrial workers, and to control business practices for the prevention of exploitation of primary producers and consumers.

The C.C.F. has always stood for a revision of the constitution which will give the national government such powers. We do not propose any constitutional changes which would affect the cultural rights of the minority race in Canada. But the centralization of economic and financial power in modern Canada makes necessary a stronger central government.

5—Peace. Canada must not be allowed to drift into another capitalist war. With the great powers of the world rearming and frantically preparing for another great conflict, we are unable to elicit from the Canadian government any clear statement of its position. Both the old parties when in office have pursued a policy of secrecy about their external commitments. All that we know now is that our Canadian armed forces are being steadily increased.

The C.C.F. calls for a stop of this process. It is unalterably opposed to war and it declares that, if the great capitalist powers become engaged in another war, Canadian neutrality must be rigorously maintained. With so much constructive work awaiting the energies of our younger generation in our own country, we must not allow them to be sacrificed in meaningless slaughter in Europe or in Asia.

The Stevens party must not vote-catching program of superficial reforms. Even this is impossible of attainment under the existing economic set-up. It will appeal to those who refused to face issues and seek easy and painless solutions. It serves to throw into bold relief the fundamental issue of reform versus the abolition of capitalism. Upon this the next election must be fought. In contrast with Conservatives, Liberals, and the Stevens party the C.C.F. stands for a new social order.

Liberals To Go Into Action For Election With 61 Candidates: 1 More Convention Will Provide Name For All Constituencies

With only one more nominating convention to be held, and that scheduled for Tuesday next at Andrew, when the candidate for the constituency of Victoria will be selected, W. R. Howson, K.C., Alberta Liberal leader will be ready for the elections with a candidate in every constituency. The Liberals will go into the campaign with 61 candidates, the Calgary Liberals having nominated only four candidates for the six seats in that city. There are 63 members in the legislature.

U.F.A. government supporters are next to the Liberals in the number of candidates, having already nominated 41 members. One more nominating convention is to be held, that at Innisfail, which has been held up by reason of the illness of Donald Cameron, U.F.A. member in the last legislature.

Conservatives have already nominated 38 candidates, but do not expect to nominate more than 50.

Labor has already seven candidates in the field, but nominating conventions for Drumheller and Calgary are yet to be held. If the full slate is nominated in Calgary there will be fourteen Labor candidates on the ballots.

Independents have so far nominated only one member, F. C. Moyer, K.C., of Edmonton, who ran as an independent in the last legislature, being again in the running.

William Aberhart, leader of the Aberhart Social Credit party has not personally selected his candidates as yet, but has announced he intends to select a candidate for every seat in the province.

Salary-Grasping Government Fears Irate Electorate

actuates them, greed for those salaries which they are determined, if possible, to hang on to as long as possible. Ignoring the distress of an oppressed people who demand a change they refuse in their fear and greed to face the electorate. Why is the election date not set? Your sitting member whose functions as a legislator expired on Thursday is the man upon whom this duty devolves. Why does he so fear to face the people? I'll tell you why. It is because the government of which he was the head is ashamed of its record, a record of drift, indifference and inefficiency. His government was one which had completely lost touch with the people and forfeited all confidence," said Mr. Howson.

EASEMENTS OPPOSED

Reminding his hearers of the deplorable general condition of debt, taxation burden and impending bankruptcy, the speaker, from legislative records, read resolution attempts made by himself as Liberal opposition leader of the house, for debt adjustment, interest-halving, home protection against foreclosure etc. The records revealed that Mr. Reid had, with all government members voted down every effort made by the Liberal opposition to bring easement of the peoples' burdens. Surely the electorate of Vermilion constituency who suffered in common with the electorate of the entire province, had a right to expect more from their representative, said Mr. Howson. He declared that Mr. Reid, in common with other government members, had displayed an entire indifference to the people and their problems.

STAGGERING DEBTS

Strictly adhering to legislative records, Mr. Howson cited mounting public debt figures for the past five years, a huge upward step each year in interest charges until the present year's total of is more than $7,000,000. From the same authentic record he also proved that while the expenditure mounted by leaps and bounds the government had gradually whittled-away at all the humanitarian grants, cutting financial relief to education, hospitals, pensions and other services entitled to increases rather than deletions.

SOCIAL CREDIT MIRAGE

The Aberhart social credit mirage came in for a portion of the leader's address. He made the Liberal situation entirely clear in regard to social credit, referring to legislative record again to show that it was the Liberals who instituted the first exploitation into the field of social credit by a house resolution.

"We Liberals are not opposed to social credit—in a sane, sensible and practical manner which will redound to the good of the people of Alberta. Plank 14 of the Liberal platform," he declared, "is evidence of the statement. It pledges Liberals when returned to power, to engage three outstanding social credit experts for a full and complete investigation of all proposed schemes, and to receive and submit a plan of social credit which shall be submitted to the legislature for consideration."

WORDY CAMOUFLAGE

"But, with regard to the so-called Aberhart system," said the speaker, "I merely urge you in a sensible way to examine closely all this high-sounding wordy camouflage and look at the thing as commonsense people earnestly looking for results. What the apostles of this system are saying is in effect here is our plan of social credit. Right now it is a blank sheet of paper, but after we are elected we will fill it out."

"I submit to you, that is not good enough. We want to know what we are accomplished. We Liberals say: 'If you have a plan, put it down on paper, clause by clause, plan by plan. Let us examine it, properly drawn as a legislative bill. From it we can discover and preserve that which is sane and workable and beneficial, and that which is not can be discarded. By this means the plan stands upon its merit alone and not by mere vaporings and promises, many of which the promoters must realize are totally incapable of fruition.'

ASSETS POTENTIAL

"This 'cultural heritage' we hear so much about; $25 per month for every adult in Alberta, at a cost to this province of $120,000,000 a year. It is all very well for Mr. Aberhart to say that this will come from our natural assets, but he knows well that our assets are potential. Our coal is not worth five cents a ton without the hand of man taking it from the ground and disposing of it on market.

"Our wheat is worth nothing in embryo, it must be grown and marketed to have value. Where is this $120,000,000 cultural heritage-basic dividend money coming from while our assets and resources are being developed and marketed? I'll tell you where it is coming from, it is coming from you and from me in the form of added taxation imposts. The whole scheme is nothing more or less than a gigantic new taxation scheme. Mr. Aberhart does not like the word taxation. He says: 'Oh, no; not taxation; it is a levy. You know and I know that the two are one and the same, and what difference does it make whether it is tax or levy, when we must pay it.

FARMER HIT TWICE

"Not alone that, but being a tax upon the production and consumption, the farmer gets hit twice, coming and going, for he is both producer and consumer. Then again, paying $25 a month to every person in Alberta over 21 years of age means that the farmer who do not need it will be receiving it, and thousands already staggering under hopeless indebtedness will be contributing toward the easy money for those who do not need it. This is not feasible, sane or workable. Imagine you paying your neighbor who needs $25 per month for such Albertans as Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, a millionaire, Senator Wm. Moore, Gillespie and hundreds of other wealthy men who don't even want their cultural heritage under the Aberhart plan."

PEOPLES' PLATFORM

Mr. Howson explained the manner in which the reorganized provincial Liberal party had built its new Peoples' platform. All classes and sections of Alberta social, industrial and economic life had been solicited regardless of political viewpoint for suggestions making for improved conditions. The thousands of suggestions and ideas had been combed and the best taken then, through a series of eight economic conferences held in all parts of the province, the ideas had been boiled down to practicability and adopted as party planks. The leader urged his hearers to put the platform to the study test, convinced that such consideration by the electorate would reveal the high purpose of the people working toward best bring recovery and contentment to the people of Alberta.

CANDIDATES SPEAK

Arthur Hunter, mayor of Innisfree, Liberal candidate for the Vermilion provincial riding, made a brief speech. Resident of the district for more than 30 years and a graduate of Alberta agricultural institutions, and engaged in stock farming on a large scale, Mr. Hunter is a vigorous campaigner and pledged that, if elected, he would be servant of the position rather than its master.

Also on the platform was Martin Forrester, federal Liberal candidate. His hearty endorsation was given to the provincial candidacy and platform, and in his speech he outlined desirable policies viewed from the Liberal party standpoint.

HOWSON PLANS ACTIVE WEEKS OF CAMPAIGN

Liberal Leader Appearing in Widespread Speech Engagements

Well embarked upon an active campaign tour in the interests of various provincial Liberal candidates, W. R. Howson, Alberta Liberal leader, last week visited nine towns north and east of Edmonton and delivered a speech at each. During the coming week he is scheduled to speak at six meetings in the south part of the province. Six meetings for the week following are already arranged, with more to be added in the final schedule.

Last Tuesday the Liberal chief spoke at Mitchell and Sunnybrae; Wednesday, at Smoky Lake; Thursday, at Bruce; Friday, at Derwent and Innisfree; and Saturday he was at Innisfree for informal meetings, and concluded the day with a big rally at Minburn.

On Tuesday of this week he will attend the nominating convention for Victoria riding, at Andrew. On Thursday he will attend a public rally at East Coulee in the afternoon and another rally at Drumheller at night. On Friday he speaks at Beiseker and Crossfield, and on Saturday at Gleichen.

July 23, Mr. Howson goes to Didsbury and Carstair; July 24, at Three Hills and Carbon; July 25, at High River and Nanton.

OTTAWA AID IS REQUESTED

Urgent request for Dominion government assistance in alleviating conditions brought about by Northern floods is contained in a wire forwarded by Premier R. G. Reid to Premier R. B. Bennett at Ottawa.

"Anything you can do to expedite consideration of this matter will be keenly appreciated by the government and the people affected by flood conditions," wires Premier Reid.

On his arrival back from a trip to the Peace River territory, Hon Hugh W. Allen, minister of lands and mines, on Saturday declared that conditions in the north would not be cleared for a month.

Premier Reid, in his wire, further sets out that highway and other communications have been interrupted and further explains the situation along lines of recent information from the north.

PATTULLO RAPS ALBERTA GOV'T.

VICTORIA, July 15.—Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia in a statement reiterated the stand he has taken on several occasions against governments failing to fix an election date prior to expiration of the legislative body.

Mentioning expiration of the Alberta legislature, he said:

"I have heretofore refrained from comment upon political conditions in other provinces, but when any government allows the life of parliament to expire without having made provision for the election of a succeeding government, I believe that the incident should be drawn to the attention of the public."

Forbid Planes To Fly Over Canadian Penitentiaries Now

OTTAWA, July 15.—Aircraft are forbidden now to fly over Canadian penitentiaries, according to an amendment to the 1920 air regulations and approved by the governor-in-council. Previously the restrictive regulation prohibited aircraft from flying over "any enclosed area, factory, dockyard, camp, ship, office or other like place in Canada belonging to His Majesty."

City Hotels Will Hold Big Crowds

City hotels were swamped Saturday morning with orders for reservations of rooms during Exhibition week.

One Jasper Ave. hotel already has the "full up" sign hung out and other hotels will be crowded by Monday.

Even the smaller hotels in remote sections of the city are experiencing a boom in business.

Stars are not visible during the day because the superior light of the sun and its reflected rays from objects on the earth is so strong as to obliterate the tiny rays from stars.

EIGHT CLIMBERS FAIL IN ATTEMPT TO SCALE GIANT

MACKENZIE IS CONFIDENT OF LIBERAL WIN

Week of Bad Weather Stops Party High Up the 13,260 Foot Peak—Toiled Since June 25.

VANCOUVER, July 15—Eight bronzed and bewhiskered mountain climbers rolled along the Pacific highway today, the great Mount Waddington as which they had toiled since June 25, far behind them. They left Knight Inlet, from which they made their attack on the mountain, only Sunday morning, flying to Vancouver and motoring south towards California in the afternoon.

A week of bad weather, which practically stopped them still, high up the 13,260-foot giant, was conceded to have left Waddington still unconquered.

GREAT HOLIDAY

"We went for a holiday and we had the greatest holiday of our lives," declared Bestor Robinson, 37, of Oakland, Calif., leader of the "old man" of a party of youth and brawn. "We certainly hope to be back. Of course, one must have an objective, but the holiday was the main thing."

"We learned a lot about mountain climbing," another member remarked.

Mackenzie King, said Capt. Mackenzie

It will be based solidly on the actions and utterances of the party and its leader in parliament during the past two or three years. And in his belief, backed by the Liberal-minded majority of the people of Canada, it will meet the country's problems more adequately than any alternative.

That the next Liberal government of Canada has many serious and stern duties facing it immediately," is concluded. "No standpatting, no marking time, but a sure and stead, but advance along our Liberal-firmly planted on the pathways of peace and leading our people on to better and more prosperous days.

"The new Liberal Government must not fail, its failure would surely mean the failure of the democratic system of government."

Capt. Mackenzie expects to remain in Vancouver about two weeks prior to leaving for an extended platform tour of the Dominion, in which the dynamic Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario, a close personal friend of the Vancouver visitor, is said to be associated with him in the West.

NEITHER NEW NOR RECONSTRUCTIVE

Hon. H. H. Stevens has decided to call his Conservative rebellion movement the New Reconstruction Party.

Thereby frankly admitting that it is not the only or the first party in the field pledged to that end, but only a late-comer making claims to share the reconstructive purpose already avowed by every other party. Mr. Bennett told us over the radio long ago that he is for reconstruction. Mr. Woodsworth says he heads the only really reconstructive organization in the country. The Liberal party is by nature and platform pledged to reconstruction beyond anything Mr. Stevens proposes.

The name also admits that there is need of a deal of reconstruction in this Dominion, capable of supporting "at least 50,000,000 people," after five years' administration by the Government of, which Mr. Stevens was a distinguished member until last fall and along lines of policy which he advocated and helped to install and operate. The ex-Minister in fact says the country is threatened by Nazism or Communism as the aftermath of this experience in statesmanship. What he proposes to do about it may be summarized as follows:

1. Set young men and women at work.

2. In so far as necessary to that end, undertake public works construction projects.

3. Ensure fair wages and hours of labor.

4. Carry the recommendations of the Price Spreads commission into complete legislative enactment.

5. Restrict interest rates and refund the public debt.

6. Nationalize the Central Bank and recover public control over public credit and monetary policy.

7. Legislate, and encourage farmers to organize, to prevent the farming community being exploited by special privilege interests operating monopoly powers given them by law.

8. Simplify tax collection machinery.

9. Enter into reciprocal agreements with other countries on the basis of allowing a larger importation of "Commodities not produced in Canada," and reduce the duties on farm implements and "primary textiles."

10. Refuse to amalgamate the railway systems under private ownership; and "Does not believe that it would be to the public advantage to sell the National Railways to any group of international financiers at this time or at the valuation of today."

11. Exhaust the powers of parliament in regulating trade and industry before tampering with the B.N.A. Act.

12. Reform the prisons, with a view to redeeming the criminal and not simply punishing him.

13. Assure equal rights and consideration for women.

14. Protect the public against exploitation by profiteers.

15. Make a "Sympathetic study" of the pledges made to war veterans and the measure in which these have been fulfilled.

So far as internal policy is concerned, his four thousand word manifesto suggests that if Mr. Stevens could take a couple more long jumps ahead he might be in position to qualify for admission to the Liberal party. As a "reconstruction" program, aimed only at dealing with conditions in the domestic field, his list of proposals is lengthy, but it discloses one fatal omission.

There is nothing in it from beginning to end to recognize the technological fact that universal full-time employment is no longer possible in Canada, or anywhere else. The machine has come, and come to stay. It has certainly and permanently displaced a very considerable per centage of human labor. No internal reconstruction can produce the needed results that does not provide for retiring the older workers on adequate pensions and thus making way for the younger ones. That basic fact in the situation seems to be one to which Mr. Stevens is an entire stranger.

As to external policy Mr. Stevens has nothing to suggest beyond some reciprocity agreements which would permit the importation of "commodities not made in Canada." There is no possibility whatever of selling our surplus wheat on any such narrow basis of exchange as that. We have in fact been trying to do precisely that thing for the past five years. Mr. Stevens and his associates in constructing the present tariff did not prevent the import of "commodities not produced in Canada." That is and has been permitted; and the 238,000,000 bushels of wheat now on hand demonstrate how much it has helped to market the most important of all Canada's export products.

This hopelessly inadequate suggestion aside, the elaborate program is nothing but a list of means by which Mr. Stevens thinks it would be feasible to modify the hardships incidental to economic nationalism, to a degree that would make it possible for ten million Canadians to feed, clothe and shelter themselves in a Dominion which could support "at least 50,000,000 people." As a reconstruction program to save the country from the threatening perils of Nazism and Communism, that isn't good enough, by a long, long way.

Death has finally closed the Dreyfus case, by taking that outraged man out of the world. France, to its credit, tried to make up to him by honors and esteem what he had suffered through a mis-carriage of justice. But it never succeeded, and he died still dreaming about the horrors of Devil's Island. The most fitting memorial to him would be an order abolishing the penal colony; and the one he would most appreciate. The French nation, than whom there is no more intelligent or kindly people on earth, should be able to find some way of dealing with criminals more in keeping with reason and humane impulse than sending them to life-long torment.

The death of Dr. Oliver of Saskatoon means a good deal more than the disappearance of a former head of one of the great religious denominations. He was a Canadian of a particularly fine type, a type fortunately found in every denomination and outside all of them; whose going is a national loss. The work he did on behalf of the drought-stricken people of Saskatchewan, and the way he told the story of their sufferings and needs to the people of the rest of the Dominion, will not be forgotten.

Poems That Live

"DO I LOVE THEE?"

Do I love thee? Ask the bee
If she loves the flowery lea,
Where the honeysuckle blows
And the fragrant clover grows.
As she answers, Yes or No,
Darling! take my answer so.

Do I love thee? Ask the bird
When her matin song is heard
If she loves the sky so fair,
Fleecy cloud and liquid air,
As she answers, Yes or No,
Darling! take my answer so.

Do I love thee? Ask the flower
If she loves the vernal shower,
Or the kisses of the sun,
Or the dew, when day is done.
As she answers, Yes or No,
Darling! take my answer so.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

We can't complain of not having enough rain this summer. Even the Central States where rivers vanished last year and stock died on withered pasture land are this year getting rain by hateful.

A lucky collision of air currents over Canada has made all the difference between this year and last. The polar air current and the tropical air current met this year much farther south than they did last year. When they meet they spill rain in torrents.

J. S. Cowper

Why they meet in different places each year isn't known. Climates in both hemispheres and both north and south zones have been undergoing slow changes. Glaciers facing the north Pacific have been melting away while the Greenland ice field has been building up. We may know more about it after the meeting of the International Geologic Congress at Moscow next year, when a committee of that body will confer with a committee from the Royal Society for the Advancement of Science to study the problem of changing climates.

Farmers in the central States which suffered most in the drought of last year from duststorms that blew away the top soil, will find small comfort in reading reports that preceding agricultural settlement. A U.S. Department of Agriculture bulletin of 1898 quotes a stockman who has travelled with a herd of cattle through three counties in Texas in the summer of 1867 as saying that grass everywhere was from 1 to 2 feet high and in places as high as a cow's back. The stockman said it would support 300 head of cattle to the square mile.

When Coronado made his romantic expedition from New Mexico to central Kansas in 1541, with 1000 horses, 500 cows, more than 5000 rams and ewes and 1500 friendly Indians and servants, the grass was so high his party made little impression on it. Castenadas, who acted as historian for the party, says it was necessary to make piles of bones and cow dung as they went along to act as landmarks for the rear guard that followed the army.

Like our own southern country, it had probably much better have been left in range instead of being over-grazed and then ploughed up for wheat-growing and intensive field crops.

Some Edmonton folks are scared by the spectacle of a young man who in the early hours of the morning is seen parading in his under-clothing, and who beats it hot foot on being pursued.

Whether he's an athlete in training, a sport who likes to be pursued, a dress reformer or just plain plum crazy, isn't yet known. But I have come across a report of a somewhat similar occurrence at Dallas, Texas, that gives a clue. This young man, with a head of shaggy hair, was picked up on the street in the early hours of the morning, clad only in long cotton underdrawers.

At headquarters he explained: "I'm Heckler. I hail from up yonder by Weldon, Ark. One night maw was reading to me out of a book and she come across a sign that said somethin' about how you can learn to be a great singer from a teacher in Dallas. Maw made me a pretty new shirt, give me some money and showed me the road to git on comin' this way. I wasn't never in a city before today. A feller showed me a house and I talked to the folks and they give me a room with the softest, dangest bed I ever see.

"Come last night and I got pretty sleepy. I took off all my clothes but my drawers and—well—I had to go. Well, I went out in the back yard to go but there wasn't no path leadin' to the place I wanted to go and I couldn't see no little house. Well, I got turned around then and I couldn't tell which was my house so I started walkin' because I was cold."

After explaining city ways to Heckler, the police took him home to bed.

Some years ago, travelling on the night boat to Victoria, I feared I had a crazy man in my cabin. He was restless through the night. Twice from the security of my upper bunk, I saw him steal out in his pyjamas in the early hours of the morning, carrying shoes, socks, a hat, his vest and other articles of attire. He made two trips for other articles of clothing. After a few minutes he would return, making more trips to retrieve the clothes. He was wizened and tough and didn't look like a sneak thief, but I kept my weather eye open each time I heard him get up.

In the morning he got loquacious—told me he was a prairie farmer—had a good crop—wanted to see the world and have adventure. Said he: "Two years ago I made this trip and had an awful time. I got up in the night and couldn't find my way back to my room. I walked all around the corridors. Twice I got into the wrong room. The second time a man grabbed me and rung the bell. He thought I was a thief. I had a terrible time before I got back. But I've got a slick way now. I put a boot outside the door, another boot at the corner where you turn, my vest at the bottom of the stairs, and so on, and then I pick them up on my way back."

How wonderful to be able to achieve high adventure on a night trip to Victoria!

They are making big strides in England in the production of smokeless fuel from coal slack, with a valuable return in gasoline as a by-product.

Recently the Fuel Research station at East Greenwich was thrown open to inspection by scientific and other visitors, who were shown the machines which serve the dual purpose of changing coal into smokeless fuel, and the hydro-carbons from the gases into gasoline, tar and oils.

Dr. F. S. Sinnatt, director of fuel research announced that from one ton of coal, they produce 18 gallons of motor spirit within one hour —in addition to the smokeless fuel, which takes on many of the characteristics of high-grade anthracite.

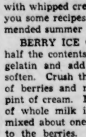
In Alberta, the mines have to screen out the slack as valueless. There are mountains of slack up the Coal Branch holding millions of tons. Sometimes it is burned to help get rid of it. Some day when the Coal Branch becomes the Saar Valley of western Canada, these mountains of slack will prduce high-grade smokeless fuel and millions of gallons of gasoline and tar. People then will point to the folly of our present day policy, whereby the west is sacrificed for the east, and $100,000,000 is sent abroad yearly for fuels that should be produced in Alberta.

Wholesome Desserts For Summer

By DOCTOR FRANK McCOY

Many people who realize that rich desserts are not the best thing for them, avoid all desserts, but they would not have to do this if they learn to use healthful desserts. Here are some of the desserts which I recommend.

I consider ice cream wholesome and during the summer it is a good plan to use ice cream, flavored with berries, as the entire meal for luncheon. Stewed or canned fruits make excellent desserts and fruit whips are also delicious and healthful. Custards may be served as dessert or made the protein part of the meal. Sherberts or ices are agreeable desserts, consisting mainly of frozen fruit juices. Gelatin desserts are among the most pleasing and healthful of all desserts and are favorites of children. Serve with whipped cream if desired. I will now give you some recipes to follow in preparing recommended summer desserts.



Dr. F. McCoy

BERRY ICE CREAM: Measure into a dish half the contents of an envelope of unflavored gelatin and add to it enough cold water to soften. Crush the desired amount of any kind of berries and mix thoroughly with one half pint of cream. Into another bowl put one pint of whole milk in which has been thoroughly mixed about one-half cupful of honey and add to the berries. Next, add the gelatin which has been dissolved over hot water. Stir all together and pour into freezer and freeze to the desired consistency. The amount make one quart, depending upon the quantity of berries used. The amount of honey will vary, in proportion to the type of berries preferred. When made with strawberries, the ice cream is delicious and satisfying on a warm day.

FRUIT WHIPS: Mince the cooked or raw fruit and fold into the whites of well-beaten eggs. It is not necessary to add sugar. Apple whip may be made by mincing or grating the raw fruit and adding to the egg white. Peaches may be used, in the same way. Prunes, figs or pineapple are delicious in fruit whips. If you wish, place the whip in the oven until delicately browned on top.

BAKED PEACHES: Peel and halve the desired number of large, ripe peaches. If the fresh peaches are not ripe enough, or are out of season, use the canned ones. Into each peach, heap one-half teaspoonful or more of ground, seedless raisins and bake for almost 20 minutes in a tightly covered pan. Serve hot or cold with cream.

PEACHES A LA MODE: Place halves of peaches, center side up in the oven, until baked through, then heap beaten egg white over the top and brown. Let cool and when ready to serve, indent centre of meringe with 1 table spoonful of ice cream.

FROZEN CANNED PINEAPPLE: Do not open the can of pineapple, but remove the label, placing the entire can in a bucket and entirely surrounding it with a mixture of chopped ice and ice cream salt. This will freeze in about half an hour after which the can may be opened, the frozen pineapple sliced and served. Or, if you have an electrical refrigerator, you can place the can of pineapple in the freezing compartment until frozen.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: Mr. Jack T. writes: "Have developed a small hernia. Is an operation absolutely necessary?"

ANSWER: When the hernia is small, an operation can be successfully avoided in many cases. There is no way in which I can give you a definite decision, however, without examining you. If you wish my two articles on Rupture, write and enclose one large, self-addressed envelope and ten cents.

Dr. Frank McCoy's great book, "The Fast Way to Health," gives you the mechanics of health in plain, easily understandable language.

A limited supply is on hand at The Bulletin. A copy will be mailed postpaid on receipt of $1.00. Just address The Bulletin.

If it is desired to communicate direct with Dr. McCoy, letters may be addressed to address communication direct to Dr. Frank McCoy, 689 South Ardmore Ave., Los Angeles, California, and replies will be mailed direct from that address.

Horoscope

By MARY BLAKE

If July 16 is your birthday, avoid attaching importance to any foolish remarks you may hear this day, if you would be free from a sense of irritation. It will be good judgment to bear in mind that the average person's casual remarks are frequently made without much reflection. You are likely to have an opportunity to play the good Samaritan this day. Any form of social snobbery will be dangerous. Married and engaged couples, and those hopeful of seeing the light of love reflected in someone else's eyes, may discover anger can be easily aroused on this day.

If a woman and July 16 is your birthday, commonplace things, as a rule, do not appeal to you. You may have a good deal of the primitive instinct strong within you. Your loyalty to family and friends is probably one of your finest characteristics. You have all the qualifications needed to make some man extremely happy, and may find happiness for yourself.

The child born on July 16 may, when it passes from infancy into childhood, develop a decidedly demanding streak.

If a man and July 16 is your natal day, you are firm in your convictions, and not afraid to express them. Your personality expresses a surplus of vitality. Success should follow any concentrated effort you make to achieve a definite result.

SIDE GLANCES — By George Clark

"Now try not to blow up and get temperamental, if he suggests some little change in that refrigerator drawing."

On This Date

A Day in Canadian History —o— By FRED WILLIAMS

On this date in 1870 the Province of Manitoba was created and admitted to the Dominion of Canada, but its official inception did not take place until September 2, when the first lieutenant governor, Adams G. Archibald, arrived and took up residence at Fort Garry, which remained government house until 1881. But the real birthday of Winnipeg was on Tuesday, August 23, when Garnet Wolseley and his Red River expedition arrived and Riel fled.

Winnipeg was a "model place" in its early days. Alexander Begg tells us that "The wild children of the prairie, who during the summer and autumn were in the habit of visiting Fort Garry to exchange their furs for goods, were wont to make their presence known, for with drinking, whining, fighting, dancing, laughing, talking, swearing, horse racing, trading and singing they made a perfect babel of the place, but, strange to say, with all the wildness we never heard of a case of murder happening among them."

"We had no bank, no insurance office, no lawyers, only one doctor, no city council, only one policeman to keep the peace—nothing but freedom, and, though lacking several other so-called advantages of civilization, we were, to say the least of it, tolerably virtuous and unmistakably happy. Mr. James Mulligan was the last policeman under Hudson's Bay Company sway and on one occasion a few fun-loving individuals, headed by Mr. J. H. McTavish, took him bound to a cart and deposited him in the jail, much to his astonishment. He took the joke very good naturedly.

"One of the most original characters of the day was George Emmerling, our first hotel keeper. He came to this country 'on spec' and, it is said, landed in Winnipeg with a barrel of whiskey and two barrels of apples. He at once opened an hotel on Post Office street and, having the only place of entertainment he succeeded beyond his expectations." Post Office street is now, we are told by W. J. Healy, Lombard Street.

Current Comment

MR. STEVENS' MANIFESTO

Canadians will not quarrel with most of Hon. H. H. Stevens' program for his new party.

It is less the constructive rather generously with the restrictive. It practically underwrites any socialist or radical program which the C.C.F. or any radical party is likely to produce.

The Stevens' outline visualizes a place for youth, a reduction of interest rates with control of credit, and opening up of Canada's resources, control of marketing, finishing of the trans-Canada highway, reciprocal trade agreements and taxing of the rich. It pledges an end to exploitation of labor.

The short verdict on Mr. Stevens' plan is that "it's a good trick if he can do it."

What he has actually done is try to reform the Conservative party.

The constructive phase of his program are recognized parts of the Liberal policy. These things are no longer a matter of party opportunism. They are vital needs that stand out so plainly that no one can help seeing them. They are the positives that have been constructive in the positive policy which has governed Canada for the last five years.

The tide of Liberalism is running so strong that there is no doubts as to the election result.

Mr. Stevens can help his land, is making a strong bid for a strategic position from which he can storm the leadership of the Conservative party after the election.

In his manifesto, therefore, he has put himself on record as favoring the constructive things the Liberals must do.

If that proves to be a foretaste of co-operation in the next parliament, this virile young country should have some effective government that will bring real recovery.—Vancouver Sun.

The Mail Bag

CAN'T PERSUADE COMMUNISTS

Editor, Bulletin: Kindly allow me space in your paper to correct some statements made in the editorial which appeared in the issue of July 10 under the heading "In the same boat." The editorial, while having a different purpose, gives a wrong impression to the public in regard to the appearance of Mr. J. Russell Love and Mr. Jan Lakeman on the same platform. This appearance took place in a convention held in Radway on June 29, as well as at a mass meeting which was held the same evening in the same place. A full report of the convention and the meeting is printed in your paper on July 2.

Your editorial states that the purpose of the appearance of Mr. Love and Mr. Lakeman on the same platform was "in an attempt to persuade Communist voters they could further their aims and ideals by voting for U.F.A. candidates." The very fact that there was a United Front candidate nominated in opposition to Mr. Love shows that no one was trying to persuade Communists to vote for U.F.A. candidates. Furthermore the convention was called by the United Front committee which consists of organized farmers, U.F.A. members, members of other farm organizations, and Communists. While the Communists are making every effort to unite the farmers and workers together, they are not going to unite with U.F.A. government officials who are supporters of the capitalist class in their actions.

Further down the same editorial Mr. Love is pictured as running on a Communist platform, when in states, "and Mr. Love can't get Communist support on any other platform. Mr. Love is running as a U.F.A. candidate and as a government official there is no desire on our part to have Mr. Love upheld by your paper as a candidate running on a Communist platform. Mr. Love is United Front candidate. L. Robbins, running on a Communist platform. There is no Communist candidate in Sturgeon. The Communists are supporting the program and the candidate of the United Front.

And if one connects the heading of the editorial with the last sentence, one would come to the conclusion that Mr. Love and Mr. Lakeman have made some political bargain and are "in the same boat." Such is far from being correct. Mr. Lakeman is an open Communist candidate for Edmonton while Mr. Love is a representative of the U.F.A. capitalist government.

Mrs. Jones: "Your husband is sulking again, I see. What's wrong this time?"

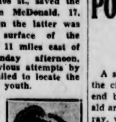
Mrs. Smith: "Oh, it's too silly. Just because I used his new tennis racket to strain the potatoes."

Timid Householder (resourcefully, after discovering two burglars at work): "D-don't take any notice of me—I'm only w-walking in m-my sleep."

EDMONTON BOY STAGES HEROIC RIVER RESCUE

Gordon Shannon, 19, Saves Lives of Two in the Sturgeon

Heroic rescue by Gordon Shannon, 19, 10138 108 st., saved the life of William McDonald, 17, Morinville, when the latter was brought to the surface of the Sturgeon River 11 miles east of Morinville Sunday afternoon, after three previous attempts by Shannon had failed to locate the nearly-drowned youth.



Gordon Shannon

Shannon, with young Billy Smith of this city, was swimming in the Sturgeon, when a young boy got beyond his depth. McDonald made an attempt to bring the youngster to shore but in diving his bathing suit became caught on a log on the river bottom.

BROUGHT TO SAFETY

The child was brought to shore safely by Shannon, who then dived for McDonald, who had not re-appeared on the surface.

Unable to locate McDonald on the first attempt, Shannon came to the surface for breath and then dived again. The second attempt also ended in failure as did the third but the fourth time Shannon dived he located McDonald on the bottom. It required all the strength of the Edmonton youth to free McDonald, a piece of the latter's bathing suit being torn away in the attempt.

FINALLY REVIVED

With the assistance of Smith the nearly-drowned youth was taken to shore, where desperate efforts were made to revive him. Finally McDonald commenced to breath again.

The water is eight feet deep where the accident occurred.

Later Dr. A. G. Douglas of this city was brought to the assistance of McDonald who was later brought to the Misericordia hospital.

Dr. Douglas praised highly the gallantry of Shannon, who unquestionably effected the saving of McDonald, just in the nick of time.

Boys Narrowly Escape Drowning

Excitement was handed out in big, juicy chunks to a pair of vacationing Edmonton youths last week. Harold Shannon, 24, 10138 108 street, and Fred Barclay, 20, 117 street, the boys narrowly escaping drowning in the flood waters of the Saskatchewan.

Shannon and Barclay had decided to spend part of their holidays in a canoe trip down the river from above Seba Beach to the city.

Each had a canoe, a large amount of camping equipment and a radio and camera in addition.

CANOE CAPSIZED

At a point 10 miles this side of Barry's Landing the canoeists bumped into a floating log jam and Barclay's canoe sank quickly throwing the occupant into the fast-rushing water.

Without hesitating a second, young Shannon plunged in the water and seized Barclay by the collar. The latter had been stunned by his head coming into contact with a log and sank immediately below the surface.

Although the river was in flood and racing like a millstream Shannon was able, by strong swimming to pull the nearly-drowned youth to shore, where he soon revived.

The portable radio and a new camera was lost, along with all camping equipment in Barclay's canoe.

The two young men continued on to Edmonton in Shannon's canoe, arriving here Friday night.

PADDLE PICKED UP

A paddle that Shannon lost when effecting the rescue of Barclay was picked up by him Saturday in the river.

The boys paddled a distance of 140 miles.

The boys are members of the Wampeus of the Forest club.

If the camping equipment lost by Barclay is washed ashore he would like to hear from any person finding it.

CUTS THIRD SET TEETH AT AGE 63

PUEBLO, Colo., July 15.—Mrs. Hettie Leach is cutting her third set of teeth at the age of 63.

Members of her family said the first tooth began to come through her gums Sunday. Most of her second teeth were pulled about five years ago.

POLICE MAKE VICE DRIVE

A sweeping vice clean-up around the city was made over the week-end by Detective William McDonald and Juvenile Officer W. C. Murray, when seven men, including two Chinese, were arrested on charges of contributing to the delinquency of juveniles.

James Gregg, Ralph E. Bezanson, Farmer Steel, Ernest Flagg, Wong Quong and Mah Yuen were taken into custody on Saturday and Alex Getty, a week-end visitor to the city, was arrested Sunday.

The charges date from January 1 and involve three juvenile girls, aged about 15 to 16, one of them having been involved in a similar court action two years ago. They were detained three or four days ago and placed under restraint in homes. The arrests followed complaints of the girls' conduct, said to have been disorderly for the past year.

Appearing in police court Monday morning, the seven men pleaded not guilty and received adjournments to Tuesday, July 23, the crown stating that there will be further arrests. P. G. Thomson, K.C., is appearing as defence counsel.

TRAINS HALTED BY HIGH WATER

Flood waters of the Lesser Slave Lake continued to halt Northern Alberta Railway train service to the Peace River and Grande Prairie countries Monday. A train scheduled to leave Edmonton Monday afternoon will not proceed further than Smith, it was stated by officials here. Excess waters of the Lesser Slave have inundated the main track beyond Smith.

The south-bound train which was marooned at Widewater last Wednesday was still there Monday.

Crews are working frantically to clear the track north of Smith, but no estimation as to the earliest date that traffic will be restored was made at the N. A. R. office here Monday. Meanwhile, food supplies in the entire northland are believed to be running low.

Flood Waters Are Abating

Encouraged by continued clear, calm weather over the week-end, flood-ravaged lands of the north continued their return to normalcy Monday. No rain has fallen in any section of the north since torrents ceased in all districts last Wednesday and Thursday.

Streams and rivers, and lakes have shown decreases in levels in all districts with exception of the Lesser Slave Lake locality where waters are still at an unprecedented level. No noticeable fall in water levels in the Lesser Slave area is expected for some time.

Motorman Escapes When Trams Crash

The rear and front vestibules of two street cars were shattered and Motorman Robert Johnston escaped with a cut on the nose and slight bruises to the legs when car No. 47, white sign, which he was driving, crashed into the rear of car No. 31, red and white, driven by Motorman William Lindsay, at the corner of 109 street and Jasper avenue, at 12.27 p.m., Sunday.

Lindsay stated that he had stopped his car in the safety zone on the north side of Jasper avenue at 109 street, the other car bumping into the rear shortly after.

Johnston said he was travelling west, coming up behind Lindsay's car and was applying his brakes when suddenly "the braker blew out." The next thing he knew was the crash. The front vestibule of his car was completely smashed as was the rear of the car in front.

Cooking And Sewing Classes Are Heavy At Exhibition This Year

Whatever their adventures in the professional world, women of northern Alberta are not neglecting the traditional household duties of their sex. No, sir! Some of the fireside orators who denounce the modern woman and her interest in the wider field of living, should spend an hour wandering through the exhibitions of cooking and handwork that have turned the second floor of the Women's Building at the Edmonton Exhibition into a model of feminine arts.

Possibly the viewers-with-alarm of the literary fad will be pleased to learn that dozens of chocolate cakes occupy a large area of the cooking corner. There are 78 large, tempting and fattening chocolate cakes in one class alone, and 30 in another. Heaviest of all the cooking classes is that of biscuits, so apparently the old idea that the bride immediately turns her hand to making biscuits, holds good. There were 88 entries in one class for biscuits.

Barring a lonely look because of the absence of pots of pale yellow Alberta butter, and full glasses of creamy prairie milk, they appeared to be just about perfect, and drew some fine praise from the judges. The Scotch baking class was a new one, and while there were a few entries, it will take a while for the good cooks from the Highlands to get into the swing of things, no doubt. Bread, and coffee and other new classes, were also small, but will undoubtedly gather speed with the prize purse from buns and cinnamon buns, also additions of this season, brought a more enthusiastic response.

In the jelly classes it is interesting to see translucent red currant, and crab apple jelly made from Edmonton fruit.

HANDWORK IS BRIGHT

Perhaps one can judge the phases through which women are passing, in their broadened outlook, but the kinds of needlework and handwork which they offer for exhibition each year. It is a note of interest to see the added brightness which the many beautiful quilts, tablecloths and ornamental pieces have taken on in later years. The brilliant colorings so favored by Canadians of Ukrainian origin, are to be seen everywhere, and many fine quilting pieces were embroidered in Ukrainian cross stitch. Mrs. A. Repila's apron and Ukrainian jacket, blouse and apron are of the finest. In weaving there are especially lovely pieces, in delightful colors. A piece that takes the eye is the patchwork kimona made by Mrs. C. Young, an artistic, beautifully designed to give the impression of a priceless Oriental piece.

The fine silk is always interesting, although at times one is reminded of Dorothy Parker's lines; Little shoulders, dear as beads, Little morals, woven out.

Little wreaths of gilded grass, Little kind of whittled oak, Bottled painfully in glass;

These are made by lonely folk.

A tremendous piece of work is a fine artwork miniature of Nelson's column in Trafalgar Square, complete with lions. Harold Taylor of Edmonton contributed this beautiful piece of the Lord's Prayer, in Mr. George Marchuck, who apparently has a yen for canaries, pu entered what he calls a "Canpo cage" but which appears to be nary apartment, for there are cages in one. This will appeal ga those who are admirers of standardization, for each cage is a replica of the other, in blue and ite.

Charles Lashbrook's Fisher Body del stage coach is the delightful ry tale sort of thing one dreamed out in Cinderella stories; gold, ue and gold, beautifully carved, th white velvet upholstering. It's rth looking at.

ACES ARE LOVELY

Laces and embroideries are overwhelming in their number and fine craftsmanship. Mrs. A. H. Baldwin has contributed a winning pair of knitted gloves, ably done. Bed spreads and quilts and rugs are of the high standard already established by the Handicrafts Guild. You might like the cushions made of flags . . . one doesn't see them often now-a-days. And what to do with those old silk convention badges? One enterprising worker made them into a sofa cushion; Mrs. F. J. Lang of Czar, as the champion maker of men's shirts, should have special mention, in this day and age, and Mrs. Erickson took first for her home spun wool. Hev. Edmond, 79 street, is a ship-maker as well as a preacher, and his gallant old sailing vessel will thrill sea-lovers. The vogue for hand knitted suits and frocks is reflected on the fine array entered here, with Dorothy Pratley taking first with her white sweater suit.

The wall panel may not have taken first prize, but the sentiment in hand painting by Aileen Leban of Leduc was happily quite unique. One ship sails east and one sails west with the self-same winds that blow. "It's not of the ship sails and not the gales which decide the way they go." And just in case any one has the idea that the world is losing its old-fashioned ideas, there is a very finely woven rug with a picture of a gay little nude and the inscription . . . "God Bless Our Home" and another with "Home, Sweet Home." And a sampler with "Welcome." The dolls, dressed for exhibition, are a gay company.

HAPPILY WED FOR 70 YEARS: GIVE SECRET

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., July 15.—As far as George Mortimer Hopkins and his wife are concerned, there isn't any secret to being happily married.

Hopkins, 92, and his wife, who will celebrate her ninety-second birthday tomorrow, are one of the oldest married couples in the United States. They wed 70 years ago.

Here is the Hopkins' recipe for a happy marriage: Courtesy, charity, and tolerance.

MISS ESTHER PREVEY.

who is at home again from attending the University of Minnesota where she was awarded a fellowship for the study of child welfare and nutrition. Upon the conclusion of the University of Minnesota they did the convention of the American Home Economics Association held in Chicago. She will be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren W. Prevey, who have just returned from a cruise to Alaska, for the summer months.

Tennis Tourney Concludes With Glenora Dance

Competitors across the tennis nets at Glenora joined in gay celebration to-night in the conclusion of the city tournament on Saturday evening when they held a dance in Glenora clubhouse. The party was well attended and one of the charmingly informal summer parties which add social interest to the season of sport.

Mrs. Victor Johnson, one of the finalists of the tournament, convened the affair, welcoming the guests, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Hutton, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Goddard, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Gilfen, Miss Edna Hayward, Miss Ruth Wolfe, Miss M. Jones, Miss Betty Bellamy, Miss Nora Hay, Miss Gladys Hay, Miss Betty Grier, Miss Peggy McKenzie, Miss Harriett Hopkins, Miss Katherine Taylor, Miss Grace Adamson, Miss Minerva Jacox, Miss Mary Smith, Miss Patricia Dick, Miss Bernice Smith, Miss Betty Freeman, Miss Elizabeth Douglas.

THE Song of the Slaves
We stand and tear out its heart.
Breaking the rock with our shovels and picks to build a bed for a road. And the road that we build will take years to build—for it has no end. With pick and shovel and sledge, with sledge and shovel and pick, we break and crush and tear out its heart, as the hearts of us have been broken and crushed and torn.

One of us got 30 years, and one of us got life.

He of us with the 30 years is young, with a wife and a kid. And he sits at night, and he stares at the dark, and he look in his eye is the look of the dead, and all day long he chips at rock and sings to the rock he chips.

Day after day. Week on week. Month piled on month. And the rains beat down. The winds blow. The sun blisters, and our hammers fall. To rise and fall. To rise and fall again.

The years pile up as the rock we break piles up, and we sing . . . sing . . . till the songs we sing shall surely tear our throats.

Till the smile rolls down from our furrowed brows, and mingles with the dust from the rock.

Each day a cut in the pattern of the one before it. Cut and hewn and fitted into a week, a month, and a year, like the weeks and months and the years before that. And we go on breaking rock, and singing as we break.

The mountain at whose heart we tear stares inscrutably up at the sky. And nothing moves but the clouds in the sky and the gang men chipping rock.

Rocks don't speak. Rocks can't think. And nothing comes out of the sky but clouds. And we continue to build it will take years to build, for it leads to God knows where.

It is the song of prisoners in the meadows? Do children still trudge to school along a dusty road? And once upon a time was there that grew in the field by the churchyard. Do they still bloom? I remember once they did.

The moon light shapes bars through the darkness. Ever and ever a silver star eyes standing into nothingness . . . spilling its silver . . . freed . . . .

Somewhere over the mountain there's cool green grass. Somewhere over the mountain there's a tree that spreads green arms and casts deep shade. There's a house that was painted white . . . and a woman once whose eyes were deep.

Stars still shine . . . a moon still gleams . . . a world woves on . . . somewhere over the mountain. . . .

Merry-Go-Round

Now we know what the real feature of the Edmonton exhibition is going to be. Manager Kingsley Abbott in one of those tropical topees! Since the first plunge has been taken, dozens of bright men are wearing the light, warm, shady headgear, especially to the grounds. The race track is going to look a little like one of the famous millionaire gatherings in Bermuda.

Undoubtedly the easterner who has soothed us on many a Sunday evening with his "Atlantic Nocturne" period of poetry, over the Canadian Radio Commission, would be a little surprised to have heard himself at dozens of radios took up his program at the Exhibition yesterday. While crowds of curious citizens and seas of children milled back and forth, fascinated by the process of building and setting up equipment, the deep, thrilling voice of the poetry reader could be heard in the grounds were greatly in the general noise and hubbub.

"Buy a radio!photoghodograph!" the barkers called. "Red hot! Red hot! How about one? How about one?" and the blare of jazz music and poetry of sea and hill and ship, by the radio poet. Study in contrasts!

Fashion Note from the Fair: For sunbathing, the Exhibition, would be discarded without rousing the resentment of Mrs. Grundy. Slacks were very much in vogue. Pretty girls, and the sun suits of the tiny visitors have to be looked at twice before they exist at all. Tub frocks are in order for the feminine grown ups. You might wear slacks if you were part of the tom-tom stage, but we don't recommend it.

The day before the Exhibition is a real holiday for hundreds of Edmontonians. The preparations in the grounds were greatly in

Students Of Art Exhibit In Gallery

Enthusiastic concerning progress of the National Gallery of Art in fostering popular interest in the fine arts, Arthur Lismer, A.R.C.A., educational director of the organization in Toronto, arrived in Edmonton over the week-end to give a series of four lectures in connection with University of Alberta summer sessions.

During his stay on the campus, Mr. Lismer is to be the guest of Brother Alexander and the staff of St. Joseph's College.

"National Gallery of Art in Toronto is purely an independent and individual organization and receives no provincial or federal grants," states Mr. Lismer. "At present we are receiving a grant from the Carnegie organization but our gallery has been built and expanded from grants donated by the people of Toronto.

"We are trying to get people to work at the fine arts instead of looking at the work of the masters. While we have a fine collection of paintings and sculptures in our galleries, the recognized work is often stored in the basement to make way for products of our students. We endeavor to keep constantly changing exhibit on display so that visitors may see something new whenever they come to visit us.

CHILDREN VISIT GALLERY

"The gallery encourages individual effort among backward and delinquent children, to allow them a source of expression. Also, we have 28,000 Toronto school children visit us in the course of a year. Our regular daily classes number 200 students and we have a staff of 20 instructors. It is estimated that 250,000 persons annually visit our eight galleries."

Declaring that enthusiasm has been growing steadily since the art, istic educational venture was commenced five years ago, Mr. Lismer declared that the policy of having v. tors "do as well as look" has been eminently successful.

Keynote of the new system, he says, is appreciation and expression.

The Toronto branch of the National Gallery has been instrumental in having displays of art sent to all parts of Canada. Priceless collection of old Quebec silver and copper craft have been obtained from private collectors through efforts of officials.

Classes number students from five years of age to adults, all actively engaged in artistic endeavor. Mr. Lismer addresses illustrated by slides, will be given in the Medical building on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday evenings at 8:30 o'clock. Subjects, in order, will be "Education Through Art," "Art In a Democracy," "Art and Appreciation of Pictures", and "The Art of Children."

The lectures will be open to the public.

Summer Sweethearts

By Mabel McElliott

BEGIN HERE TODAY

KATHARINE STRYKHURST, beautiful, 25, is in love with MICHAEL HEATHEROE who runs a riding school. Katharine's father is rich and her stepmother, BERTINE, is snobbish.

ZOE PARKER, Katharine's friend, has an enemy in Zoe's affair and is saved from suicide by young DR. JOHN KAY.

SALLY MOON, local coquette, tricks Michael into an engagement and, when he tries to wriggle out, tightens her hold. Katharine hears Michael's is to marry Sally and is heart-broken.

She overhears two detectives asking for Michael's address and, thinking him in danger, rushes to warn him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIII

MICHAEL said nothing for the space of five minutes, during which Katharine drove furiously. She drew into a side road—a grassy lane, blocked from the main road's view by a screen of apple trees. She had had a picnic here with the Mercer children only the week before.

She shut off the engine. After its steady hum the silence was almost deafening. Half a city block away the road of steady traffic on a main artery sounded. But here was a peace like the humming of bees in a clover field. And quiet. And a man in the seat beside her, waiting for her to speak.

"Well, what is it?"

Katharine had the queerest feeling that she had lived through this scene some time or some place before. Perhaps in a dream. Her brows drew together in a frowning line.

"Do you think we can be seen from here?" She threw a glance back at the road from which she had come.

Michael shrugged. "No, but why?"

She plunged into her story.

"Michael, there are men after you. Down in the village. They've badges—detective shields—or something.

"Detectives?" If he were guilty of some unnamed crime, he maintained a bland air. But hadn't she heard somewhere that criminals are like that?

"Michael!" She felt a sudden fierce rage possess her. That he should be so calm, while she had rushed so madly to warn him! "Don't you understand?" she cried. "I rushed to tell you—so that you might get away!"

"You did that!" His voice sounded odd—almost choked. He was sing at her strangely.

"Yes, and you must run for it," she said on a note of relief and terror, "Michael, you must!"

"You mustn't let them get you. Have you any money? If you haven't I'll give you everything in the bank. I'll drive you over to Harmon—the through trains stop there. You can start—"

"No matter what I've done or what I'm running away from!" he said.

"No matter what!" She was firm about that. There was not a single question in her mind. Have a statement to be met. She, who had never broken a single law in all her 20 years, was ready to run away to flee. It was as simple as that.

"Thank you, Katharine."

It was the first time he had ever called her by her name in that way. Katharine, who had met his eyes, quite involuntarily, filled with tears. She turned away to hide them.

"Don't . . ." That the old, old pain should be beginning again—why, that was unbearable. She had thought to conquer it for all time.

"You're very nice to me," he said, unvoiced. His hand, brown fingers closed over her wrist. Her hand lay in his clasp quite unresistingly. It was the least I could do," she managed to say, in the silence.

"I can't tell you how it makes me feel," he went on, very gently. He had squared about now to face her. Unwillingly she lifted her eyes to his. There was a split second—and then she was in his arms. Her face crushed against his shoulder, against the cloth of that worn tweed coat she knew and loved so well.

There was only this moment of weakness. Then the girl pulled herself away.

"What can we be thinking of?" she cried. "I must—we both of us must be quite mad."

"Sane for the first time in months, you mean," said the man, dryly. "Let's face it, Katharine. . . ."

"There's nothing to face," she said stubbornly. "I rush to tell you that you're in trouble; we both have a silly moment. That's all. You wait here, Michael. I'll dash back to town and get you some money. Then I'll drive you to the train—"

He had her hand again in that cool, gentle, curiously strong grip. "You're mad about you," he said. "You've got to hear it now. I've loved you for months."

"What are you saying? You're going to marry someone else."

The words were out. She hadn't meant to say them.

"Tell me you care a little, too Katharine. His slate-gray eyes, with the laughter lines about them, were wonder, compelling her.

"I can't. It—it wouldn't be true," she lied. But her eyes, her glowing face told the truth, and he caught his arms again, as if unwilling. Their lips met in that long first kiss. Which is the privilege of lovers. She sprang away.

"Have you—have you kissed Sally Moon like that?" she demanded, panting in young fury.

"You know I haven't."

"How did I know? The whole town's talking. You're engaged to her, aren't you?"

"I was until five minutes ago—"

"You can't jilt a girl, Michael Heatheroe. It isn't in you. I would not let you, anyhow."

Her eyes blazed at him.

"Oh, wouldn't you? Engagements have been broken before this—His face was dark; his eyes flashed stormy lightnings.

Katharine wrung her hands together. "We're wasting time. Already those men are at the school, looking for you. What are we to do?"

Michael's eyes held her. "You do love me a little, Katharine?" Her name was like a caress on his lips.

"Do you suppose," blazed the girl "do you imagine for one single minute I'd be here if I didn't?" Her barriers were down now. She flung the words at him as if in furious anger.

"God help me, I do love you And you're going to marry another woman. And there are detectives after you. I would myself into a hideous mess like this, when there are millions of fine, decent men I might care for—"

"You don't think I'm decent?"

"How can you be?" she raged. "Running away, breaking laws one to another. Running foul of the law. Why, I must be half mad to do what I'm doing."

"I adore you when you're like this," the man exulted, staring down at the girl. "I thought you were so cool, and aloof but now—"

"Now? What do you think of me now, Michael Heatheroe?"

"I think you're marvelous."

Tall, fair-haired girl in white linen, lean, sun-tanned man in tweeds and riding boots, they faced each other almost like enemies. Katharine's breath came thick and fast; her blue eyes were wide and dark with excitement.

"Well then, if you think I'm marvelous," she taunted. "do something for me! Get away before those policemen catch you. I should not like that. Nor Sally Moon either—"

"I will, on one condition." His nearness was like strong wine to her. She had never felt so fierce-ly, pulsatingly alive. It was as if an electric current burned between them.

"What's that, Michael Heatheroe?"

"That you come along with me."

"Why you're insane . . . ." But she could not stare him down. "You know I can't do such a thing."

"Why not?"

She paused to consider this. There were a million reasons to advance against her going with this man. Her home, her life, her training all pointed in the other direction. And yet—and yet—the arms stretched out before her in an endless procession.

"I won't," she said dully. "And you know it."

But it might be glorious, her inner self cried, to go off with him like this, without consideration or fear. Only she couldn't—she mustn't allow herself to be tempted.

He folded his arms. "Very well, then I'll go back and see these rascals, whoever they are."

"You can't do that," she cried.

He nodded. "You'll see whether I can or not."

"Michael, you're cruel. How dare you make such a condition? It's not fair or right. I've given you your chance to run for it. You're throwing it away."

"It's you who force me to it."

"I don't believe you mean it," she taunted. "You're just trying me, seeing how far you can go."

"Oh, am I?" asked the man, on a note of dangerous quiet. "If you believe that, then start your car and take me back to the village. I'm ready to see those fellows, whoever they may be."

Forty Floats In Two Mile Gigantic Parade Tuesday

1,000 PEOPLE TO TAKE PART FAIR PARADE

12 Blocks of Attractive Floats, Bands, Etc., is Big Event Tuesday

Half a hundred floats, 13 bands . . . 275 musicians, 1,000 people . . . clowns and bathing beauties will start rolling eastward from the corner of 121 street and Jasper avenue at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday as Northern Alberta's gigantic Edmonton Exhibition parade—12 blocks of it, heads for the down town streets where 60,000 spectators are expected to jam the curbs, hang out of office windows and perch from every vantage point along the three miles.

The show of shows, Edmonton's first parade of such magnitude is slated to roll by 101 street and Jasper avenue beginning at about 10:15 a.m., according to parade manager Doug. Grout.

FIRST IN EIGHT YEARS

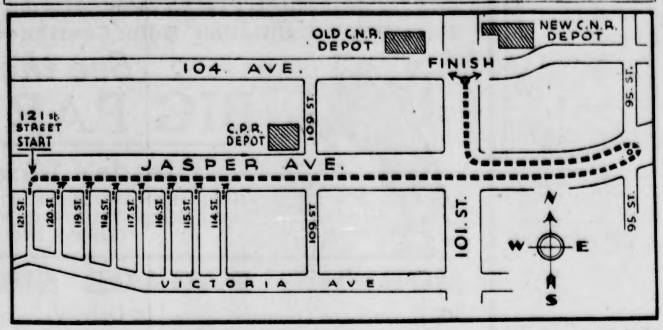
It will be the city's first rolling street show in eight years and citizens will block the light from store windows as the carnival on wheels and foot snakes its way up and down Jasper.

Of such proportions is the parade to be that when the van disbands at the Canadian National Railways depot, the end of the march, the rearguard will just be passing 102 street heading east.

Spectators will have ample opportunity to witness this street show with its gay and glamorous color and hear the uproarious carnival noises. The route takes the show east on Jasper from 121 street to 95 street, west to 101 street and north to 104 avenue.

Edmonton's leading businessmen turn showmen for the morning as virtually every line of business in the city will be represented in the line of march with a float.

ROUTE OF EXHIBITION PARADE TUESDAY



The monster parade which will be held on the second day of the Edmonton exhibition is expected to be seen by 60,000 people, lining the streets and obtaining a view from every vantage point. Shown above is the route of the parade, in which will be seen numerous floats, decorated vehicles and other features. The parade, which is expected to be two miles in length and will take two hours to pass, commences from the starting point at 121 street and Jasper avenue at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. It will proceed along Jasper avenue to 95 street, then turns west along Jasper to 101 street, at which intersection it will swing north on that street to the finishing point at 104 avenue. Between 9:00 a.m. and 12 o'clock midday, no motor traffic will be allowed on Jasper avenue. D. A. Grout is the parade manager.

The Old Timers, celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Riel Rebellion, will be there riding aboard the first buggy to plow over Alberta's muddy lanes when the province was part of the Territories.

You'll see the old original stage coach which rattled from Calgary to Macleod in the early days before the bus lines, gravelled highways and railroads made pioneering south of the Peace a thing of the past.

Look closely, friends, and you'll see the bullet holes where highway bandits pumped their lead into the coach during stick-ups.

For the first time in Edmonton, the Chinese will take part in the celebration and when these Orientals say they'll take part, they don't fool. Their float, one of the brighter of the parade's dazzling highlights will carry $1,000 worth of silks and colorful native costumed countrymen.

ORDER OF PARADE

The following (in order) will move in the parade: His Honor, Lieutenant Governor W. L. Walsh; Hon. R. G. Reid, Premier of Alberta; His Worship, Mayor Clarke; Cowboys and cowgirls troupe; 101st Fusiliers Band; Exhibition manager P. G. Abbott, K.C.; James Douglas, President of the Exhibition Association; Directors of the Edmonton Exhibition; Members of the city council; Chief Albert Dutton and the fire department; Band of the Legion of Frontiersmen (mounted).

Twenty-three floats of the Riel Rebellion, many of them 50-years-old and drawn by horses; Elks band from Stettler; Hudson's Bay Company fiat; H. H. Cooper's float; Marshall Wells float; 49th Battalion band; The T. Eaton Co. float; Naval Reserve unit.

Lowney's Chocolate float; Young Liberal and 20th Century Clubs float; Midway, Royal American band; Hook Signs float; Beatty Washer float; Chinese residents float; Pavey's Candy float.

C.N.R. Pipe Band, Ogilvie Flour Mills float, The Edmonton Grads, McBrides float, Army and Navy float, Salvation Army Band, McCoilam Storage float, Boy Scout Troops, Mikana Riding school, Johnstone Walker float, Boyle district float.

Girl Guides float, Greening's Riding school, Beverly Coal Co. float, Boys' Pipe Band, Northwestern Utilities float, Royal American Shows, McDonald's Consolidated float, Fascinations of 1935 - band, Burns and Co. float, Safeway stores float, C. Price Dayton Buick-Pontiac float, Freeman Co. float, Penn Motors float, Edmonton Riding school, C. A. Wilson float, Union Auto Wreckers float and Union Oil Company float.

NASCOPIE SAILS ON ARCTIC TRIP

MONTREAL July 15—The sturdy little Hudson's Bay Company supply ship, Nascopie, steamed out of Montreal harbor Saturday morning headed down the St. Lawrence on her annual 10,000-mile cruise to the Arctic.

The 1,503-ton vessel will spend many weeks cruising the Hudson Bay discharging mail and supplies at the company's various Arctic outposts. Captain Thomas F. Smellie, a grizzled mariner formerly of Winnipeg, will take his vessel as far north as Craig Harbor on Ellesmere Island, will make 23 ports of call before returning to Halifax Sept. 20.

Nine Drowned As Flood Hits Farm

GRANADA, Colo., July 15.—Caught in their sleep, nine persons drowned Friday in flood waters that rushed down upon Granada and nearby farms. Property damage was placed at $200,000.

All were members of the household of Anton Eder.

His Honor, Lieut.-Governor Walsh and His Worship Mayor Clarke will head the Grand Prosperity Parade tomorrow morning.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in Morning Ready to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bowel bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You get constipation. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

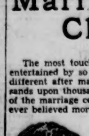
Marriage Won't Change Butterfly

The most touching example of optimism in the world is the belief entertained by so many men and women that those they marry will be different after marriage than they were before marriage. Thousands upon thousands of people cherish a deathless faith in the potency of the marriage ceremony to cure what ails you. No benighted heathen ever believed more absolutely in the magic of the hocus-pocus of a medicine man than they do that the mumbling of a few words over a couple by a clergyman will change their whole characters, dispositions, tastes and habits.



Dorothy Dix

This explains, as nothing else does, why there are so many unsuitable marriages, why there are so many disgruntled husbands and wives and why there is so much divorce. A man is attracted by a pretty girl. She fires his fancy but she does not come up to his ideal. She has plenty of faults of which he disapproves, ways that get on his nerves. She is clothes-mad, party-mad, extravagant, useless, in no way the type of woman he wants as a wife, but he goes blithely on and marries her in the secure confidence that as soon as the marriage ceremony is over she will be converted into a thrifty, industrious homebody.

For the "neglected wives," the "wives whose husbands have outgrown them," the "wives who do not understand their husbands," the "wives who are not companions to their husbands" of whom we hear so much and who are the alibis for so many unfaithful husbands, are just the women on whom the marriage miracle failed to take as their husbands expected it to do. The poor things are just as they were when their husbands picked them out for wives.

And women are equally unreasonable in their belief in the magic powers of marriage to change an individual. A girl will marry a man who has never even supported himself, without a doubt's crossing her mind that he will be able to make a comfortable living for her and a family of children. She will marry a man who has been too stingy even to bring her a box of candy or a bunch of flowers during courtship and expect him to be a liberal and generous provider.

She will marry a man who has been utterly selfish to her, who has never considered her pleasures nor desires, and be sure that as soon as they are married he will turn into a tender and gallant husband. She will even marry a man who is cold, clammy, unemotional and expect marriage to convert him into a great lover.

What New York Is Wearing

By Helen Williams

2937

Here's a nice one-piece summer daytime frock with easy to sew raglan sleeves. It makes a point of simplicity. It deals in utterly feminine bows and adjusts itself at the waistline most professionally.

This model is especially smart in sheer cotton voile print, checked chiffon seersucker, poplin in multi-colored stripes or shantung-linen.

Style No. 2937 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3¼ yards of 39-inch material with ½ yard of 39-inch contrasting.

Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE wanted.

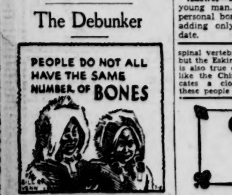
Our LATEST FASHION BOOK will be sent upon receipts of FIFTEEN cents in coins. Address all mail orders to Pattern Department, Edmonton Bulletin.

Patterns will be delivered upon receipt of FIFTEEN cents (15c) in coins, carefully wrapped, or stamps. Subscribers must allow 14 days for delivery.

Flapper Fanny Says

You can't cultivate people's friendship by digging up the dirt about them.

The Debunker



Studies of hundreds of Eskimo bodies have shown that a large number of the Eskimo people have an extra spinal vertebrae—one for each rib—but the Eskimos are not unique. This is also true of various Oriental races, like the Chinese, and probably indicates a close relationship between these people and the Eskimos.

RELIEVE PERIODIC PAIN

If you suffer periodic pain and discomfort, try Lydia E. Pinkham's Tablets. In most cases they bring welcome relief. As Mrs. Caroline Bowman says: "They ease the pain."

Mrs. Raymond Chapuis, Route 4, Tilbury, Ont., says, "I suffered something terrible. I had such backaches and headaches. I was always tired. Your Tablets helped me". Let them help you, too. Ask your druggist.

What's What

Question—We are inviting forty guests (mostly classmates of our daughter, who graduated in June) to a Saturday afternoon bridge party to be given on the lawn of our suburban cottage at the end of the month. At the same time we expect to announce daughter's engagement to Mr. K. How should this be done? What refreshments would you suggest? Can these be served on the bridge tables before the games begin?

MR. AND MRS. F. D.

Answer—This is a luncheon bridge and should be so indicated in the invitations. Mr. and Mrs. D. (or Mrs. D. alone if her husband cannot be present) the daughter and Mrs. K. stand together to receive the guests as they arrive; the hostess presents the young man as "Mr. Kennelly — my daughter's fiance." Cherry cocktails, jellied chicken in lettuce, rolls, ices, cakes, coffee (hot or frosted) and cigarettes may be served on the bridge tables an hour before the time set for the games.

Question—I have been working for a large company for three months as a secretary to a young man who is taking a sea voyage in August. Would it be proper for me to send him a parting gift to the steamship? I am 24 years of age and my employer is 25. I am telling you our ages in this particular instance, because I think that, if I were an older woman, the circumstances would be altered.

ETHEL.

Answer—Do not send a gift to the young man. Instead, mail an impersonal bon-voyage greeting card, adding only your name and the date.

Your Children -

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

His father was keen on having Hal become an engineer. Hal had the first rudiments of mechanical drawing in school and some manual training as well, so now that vacation was here, he decided to encourage him in what was well begun.

His father brought home a box containing the makings of airplanes and kites, special glue and a page of directions.

It was a pretty complicated affair. An experienced boy could have taken a look and made all sorts of things, but it was not a beginner's set, as it should have been, and was almost sure to puzzle the novice.

O. R. Barton

Hal tried to study it out. He did the very best he could, but at last he went to his mother and acknowledged defeat. "Mother, I can't make anything out of these things, and Daddy will about kill me. He thinks I'm so smart; and now he'll call me a dummy. But honest, Mom, I can't seem to begin, and I'm afraid of spoiling too much of the material."

MOTHER BAFFLED, TOO

His mother looked over the directions and studied out the angles and little dotted lines. "Well, it's all Greek to me, too, son, or I would help you."

"No, Daddy doesn't want me to have help. He wants me to get it alone."

"Here's Uncle Sam," said his mother with relief. "He'll know what to do. Sam, come here and give Hal a lift with this business until your Ed brought him a construction set and it's beyond the child. You know Ed. He doesn't believe in helping—wants Hal to study it out and make these things himself. And if he spoils anything he'll be terribly impatient. What do you think?"

Uncle Sam took the specifications and sat down. "I'll explain a few things first and then we'll make this glider together. When you get the principles of one blue print you will understand how to go ahead on the next. It's good for you to study things out for yourself, boy, but everyone has to have enough working knowledge to start on."

A voice said, "I knew that would be the way, Sam; I didn't buy that toy for you. I bought it for Hal for a purpose. Clear out now and let the kid do it himself."

SAM LAYS DOWN THE LAW

But Sam was an engineer and his brother wasn't.

"The best way to make a bad engineer, Ed, is to get him confused at the outset," he said. "You had to be taught your business step by step before you would have ventured on that testing laboratory of yours. I'm going to explain this to Hal and work with him on a few things first so he will be qualified to go ahead on his own responsibility.

"He will learn ingenuity as he goes along but the first thing he needs is confidence. You are bitten with the 'father' complex—expect the boy to come up to a standard you have set for him in your own mind, and by some miracle do it himself."

"All right, preacher. Go ahead. Maybe I should have gotten a beginner's set."

"Not necessary in this case. Hal's got what it takes, and he likes to try things over his head. Once he gets the hang of it, it will be apple pie, won't it Hal?"

"Sure," said Hal. "Dad, what'll you bet I won't spoil one scrap of stuff in this box if Uncle Sam just helps me at first."

Exercise Will Make And Keep One Lithe

By GLADYS GLAD

Not so long ago a well-known Broadway columnist selected Florence, of the famous dance team of Florence and Alvarez, as the possessor of the most beautiful figure on Broadway. Florence has a very lithe, graceful form, which she attributes in part to the numerous dance routines that she continually practices and executes. Her problem, however, is not to keep from gaining, but to keep from losing weight. And she considers exercise most important for keeping her weight normal and her figure symmetrical and shapely.

Strangely enough, there are a good many underweight women in this world who have the idea that they shouldn't exercise at all. They want to gain weight and add a few curves to their rather angular, shapeless torsos but seem to think that exercise is bad for them. They consider it merely a reducing measure, but in this they are entirely wrong. For exercise is just as essential in increasing weight as it is in reducing. Rest and relaxation naturally are important for the underweight lass who is nervous and high-strung. But exercise is equally important.

Of course, when an individual is overweight, exercise helps to break up the excess fatty tissues. But when a gal is underweight, exercise brings about body development and increases weight. That's not so hard to understand, either. For when the underweight individual exercises she stimulates her circulation. This enables the blood to bring nourishment to the starved tissues, and results in the development of firm, smooth muscle.

When a too-thin woman takes up dieting alone to increase her weight the chances are that she'll acquire but little weight in any undesirable part of her body. Exercise is therefore essential to mold the figure on harmonious lines. The exercises, for instance, outlined in my "New Figure" booklet, are excellent for giving every curve to the alluring, softly-rounded contours that every feminine lass desires. Any specially-designed exercises that every beauty-loving lass encises, if not done too strenuously, but with slow, rhythmic movements, will result in bring about a pleasing improvement in the underweight woman's figure.

Minute Make-Ups

By V. V.

Gardening, swimming, tennis—in fact, almost anything you do in summer makes your nails brittle, splits, ridges or produces white spots to mar them. They need extra nourishment and care. Oil them at the base and use a nail conditioner on them morning and night to keep them beautiful.

Appetizers To Use In Hot Weather Days

By MARY E. DAGUE

For that summer slump in the family appetite, try fruit. Cantaloupe, for instance, either by itself or in fruit cup; watermelon balls, pink and frosty; pineapple, dead-ripe with lime juice and mint. Peaches and bananas combine well, with a little lemon juice sprinkled over. Melon filled with any kind of berries and chilled is pretty to look at and luscious to eat. Oranges with a little pineapple juice poured over and minced mint make another cool appeal to the palate.

Sister Mary

One of our own favorite suppers for a hot July day is watermelon cocktail followed by hot baked bean sandwiches, carrot straws and cucumber sticks with olives and radishes on a relish tray finished off with gingerbread and whipped cream.

WATERMELON COCKTAIL

Prepare balls of chilled watermelon and put in stemmed sherbet glasses. Pour chilled ginger-ale over, and serve at once.

MELON MACEDOINE

Choose small cantaloupe and cut in halves, allowing one-half for each person to be served. Scoop out pulp in small cutters. Combine with watermelon balls and honeydew melon balls. Return to cantaloupe shells and pour over sherry to cover. Serve on a bed of chipped ice. Chill melons thoroughly before cutting.

This is suitable to serve at a company dinner.

WATERMELON APPETIZER

Prepare balls of watermelon and arrange in small glass plates. Garnish with sprigs of mint and put a green maraschino cherry in the center of the melon balls. Drizzle over some of the juice from the cherries and serve.

HOT BAKED BEAN SANDWICHES

Slice Boston brown bread very thin and spread with creamed butter. Heat baked beans. Put a slice of bread on each plate and cover with a thin layer of tomato catsup or chili sauce. Add a thick layer of baked beans and cover with a slice of buttered bread. Add crisp leaves of curly endive sprinkled with French dressing and put slices of hot crisp broiled bacon on the endive. Cover with a last slice of buttered bread and serve. Sometimes I steam the bread just long enough to make it very hot before making the sandwiches.

Prepare balls of cantaloupe and watermelon and arrange in low sherbet glasses. Pour over grenadine syrup and sprinkle with blackberries. Serve very cold.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Fresh apricots, cereal, cream, blueberry pancakes, syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Main dish macaroni salad, rye bread and buttered sandwiches, ginger ale cooler.

DINNER: Watermelon cocktail, hot baked bean sandwiches, relish tray of cucumber sticks, carrot straws, olives and radishes, gingerbread and whipped cream, milk, coffee.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

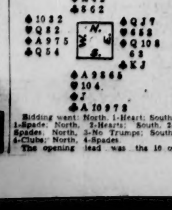
WRITTEN FOR THE BULLETIN

By E. V. SHEPARD

FAMOUS BRIDGE TEACHER

KIBITZERS OFTEN ERR

Kibitzers are self-constituted critics, who usually sit where they can view two closed hands and dummy. Knowing the precise holding of all four hands it is a simple matter to tell how the cards, as they happen to lie, could have been played to best advantage. Sometimes even that advantage does not prevent them from making wrong opinions, as was the ace with this hand.



Bidding went: North, 1-Heart; South, 1-Spade. North, 2-Hearts; South, 2-Spades. North, 3-No Trumps; South, 4-Clubs; North, 4-Spades.

The opening lead was the 10 of spades. Dummy won that trick and declarer won the second spade trick with his Ace. The fall of trumps convinced him that another trump lead would bump both missing spades, as did, and East won the first diamond trick. He led back a diamond. West's Ace won the second defensive trick. Dummy's K of diamonds took the next trick, and declarer discarded a losing club. South ruffled a diamond. He led his 10 of hearts. When that held he led his last heart, won with dummy's 9, then discarded his three losing clubs on dummy's established hearts, winning 5-odd.

Of course Mr. Kibitzer had to object to such defence, stating that a return lead of a club instead of a diamond when East won his trump trick, would have put the contract down a trick. Let's see if that is true.

Lead one of East's club honors at the third trick. Win with South's Ace. Lead the 10 of hearts and no matter how opponents play, run off five heart tricks. Upon the last three heart tricks have South discard his only diamond and two low clubs, leaving him two losing clubs, which later must be surrendered to opponents. South will make 4-odd instead of 5-odd, that is the only difference which the choice of defence tactics can make. No return lead by East should defeat the game contract.

Good Taste

By Francine Markel

My husband and I were invited to a dinner which we thought required evening clothes. Imagine our embarrassment when we arrived to find every one else informally attired, including our hosts. I had the feeling afterward that we should have excused ourselves and returned home. MRS. L. G. B.

I would have been a mistake for you and your husband to leave the dinner. As a matter of fact, your appearance in evening clothes was an implied compliment to your hosts, since you had not been told otherwise, in all such situations, a polite hostess would pass off the situation lightly. Your hostess should have indicated in the invitation that it was an informal occasion. Such situations should be treated good-humoredly and then never referred to again by any one.

CHUTNEY SPICES BAKED BANANAS

Baked bananas will have a spicy, tropical taste if a few spoonfuls of chutney are sprinkled over them before cooking. A drop or two of lemon juice will keep them from getting mushy and mealy.

CHEESE CAKE

Line a pan with the following: Mix one-half pound rolled graham crackers, one-half cup sugar, one-half cup melted butter, one-half teaspoon cinnamon. Fill with the following mixture: One and one-half pounds dry cottage cheese, three-fourths cup sugar, three beaten eggs, one cup cream, one teaspoon vanilla and a pinch of salt. Bake in slow oven, 325 degrees, for one hour.

COLLARS DISTINGUISH COATS FOR FALL

Bruyere shows new collar treatments on fall coats—great shawl affairs, high at the back, tapering down to the waist in front. These come in bi-color effects. One beige coat has a double shawl collar, half black and half beige, used crosswise. A black lainage repeats this effect in black and white. Another has large white fur coin dots on a black caracul collar.

Chanel, in her advance fall coats, features tippet collars with fur edgings, as well as trim little turn-down collars of fur, and fur-edged Lucie Paray favors the flung-back collar of fur. When she makes it of black, she uses a wide fur hem on the coat.

STYLE WHIMSIES

If you have to stay in the city these warm days and want a dress you can put on late in the afternoon and feel well dressed for the rest of the evening, consider the cotton lace ensemble made on tailored lines, if you're the type that wears them with distinction; or less severe styling with short puffed sleeves and dainty, feminine details.

Let's go—everybody—and see the grandest parade ever attempted in Edmonton — Tuesday morning, July 16th.

1935 Exhibition Expected To Break All Records

GATES SWING OPEN WIDE TO VAST THRONGS

Edmonton Bulletin

SECOND SECTION — EDMONTON, ALBERTA—MONDAY, JULY 15, 1935 — 6 PAGE NINE

Here's What You'll See Tonight

Hon. C. P. Fullerton To Officially Open Summer Fair in Front of Grandstand at 8 o'Clock Tonight.

The show is on!

Edmonton's biggest annual entertainment attraction rang up the curtain at 12 noon today when the five gates of the summer fair swung open.

Hon. C. P. Fullerton, chairman of the board of trustees of the Canadian National Exhibition who came from Montreal to Alberta's capital with the express purpose will "touch off" the six day super attraction of this city at 8 o'clock tonight when he officially opens the Exhibition, said pomp and ceremony in front of the grandstand.

He will be in the best company northern Alberta can provide for a visiting notable, his party including, His Honor Lieutenant Governor W. L. Walsh, Premier R. G. Reid, His Worship Mayor Clarke, Hon. George Hoadley, minister of health, P. W. Abbott, K.C., and other of the city's and province's head men.

Federal, provincial and civic leaders will stand on the platform which minutes later flooded with lights will carry the gigantic musical success, "Fascinations of 1935" with more stars than there are in Heaven.

SPECIAL TRAINS

All day Sunday trains rolled into the sidetracks along the Canadian National Railway's right of way beside the fair grounds and disgorged the show stock, cream of the west's cattle, horses, sheep and swine.

The racing horses up from Calgary drew in Sunday afternoon and went to stable where trainers and handlers groomed them for the runs to come in competition for $2,200 in purses in the six days of the fair.

Short minutes after the main gate opened in the morning judging got under way in the livestock classes.

STOCKMEN BATTLE

Stockmen from all points battled in the show ring, displaying their animals when $15,000 prize-money went up for the winners. Livestock men do well this year, the prizes having been boosted $3,000 by the Exhibition Association to attract into their rings the "tops" of every breed.

When the Exhibition got under way this morning, holes were ripped in the unemployed ranks. More than $15,000 goes into the fair payrolls this week.

At noon the Lindy Loop, the Caterpillar, Rodeo, five Ferris wheels and the other thrill charged riding devices of the Royal American Shows went into motion and won't stop spinning until the stands on "hot dog row" begin to come down late next Saturday night.

Crowds jammed the gates early and the exhibition management is confident that the 1935 exhibition will make past exhibitions look like small town fairs. It's a great show and should make history.

Huge Airplane Visits Exposition

Piloted by V. N. "Crazy" John, a huge Ford tri-motored airplane, belonging to Royal American Shows, arrived at Municipal Airport Sunday evening from Calgary. The ship is equipped with "sound" and will be aloft exhibition week along with a Travelair, piloted by Ray Irwin, famous sky-writer.

Gleaned From Today's News

Mrs. F. J. Robinson, Swalwell, was in Edmonton Monday prior to leaving for Montreal to sail on the Duchess of York for Liverpool on July 10.

Expenditures of the city fire department for the first six months of this year totalled $100,859 as compared to $101,616 for the corresponding period in 1934, and for the period totalling $351 as against $18.80 for 1934.

* * *

Paying a courtesy call on Mayor J. A. Clarke and Commissioner David Mitchell Monday morning, C.N.R. officials visited with the civic heads for a few minutes. Included in the railway party were S. J. Hungerford, president; A. E. Warren, vice-president in charge of western lines; C. P. Fullerton, chairman of the C.N.R. Board of Trustees, and W. I. Munro, superintendent of the Edmonton district.

Out-of-town registrations at the Alberta Motor Association headquarters here over the week-end included Wm. Bryant, Boyle; Don McLean, Dawson Creek; John Weiss, Detroit; J. Watson, Vancouver; W. E. Brisbee, Fort St. John; Fred G. Young, Calgary; M. J. McCuaig, Strome; Harper Smith, London, Ont.; Betty Eggert, Trail; Harry Melander, Mandan, N.D., and Geo. K. Arneson, Nampa, Florida.

92 IN SHADE IS OLD SOL'S BET

Summer came down on this city with a vengeance over the week-end, with Old Sol making valiant efforts to make up for his absence without leave earlier in the season.

For the three hour stretch on Sunday, from 3 p.m. until 6 p.m. inclusive, the mercury reached 92 in the shade. In the sun it was 143. It was glorious, with the population hitting for cover in all directions. But few complaints were heard, each and every one thinking they had better absorb a few violet rays while they could.

The lowest point touched in the last 24 hours was 62 at 4 a.m. on Monday.

This was the warmest day by a long shot of this year and the hottest July 14 since 1924 on which day it was 98.

On Tuesday the sun will rise at 4:25 a.m and will set at 8:55 p.m.

Sunday's mean temperature was 74 as against 49.5 on the same day in 1934.

At midnight the temperature was 68 and hourly readings until 9 a.m. were: 66, 68, 66, 62, 66, 72, 80.

Indications are the temperature on Monday would equal Sunday's.

MOTORISTS ASKED TO AID PARADE

To insure success of the big exhibition parade Tuesday morning, Parade Manager D. A. Grout urges all citizens living along the proposed route to refrain from parking automobiles on streets along which the parade will move.

Attention is drawn particularly to the north side of Victoria avenue between 111 and 121 streets, and the east side of the same streets.

Numbered signs have been placed on curbs along these streets in the parade and the parade manager asks that residents refrain from disturbing same.

A special truck tow service will be available to move cars that happen to be parked on Jasper avenue and 101 street to side streets during the time of the parade.

Youth Movement Camp At Sylvan Lake August 24th

The Christian Commonwealth Youth Movement Council is holding its first provincewide summer camp for Young People at Kasota Beach, Sylvan Lake, Alberta, from August 24 to September 2, inclusive.

Everything is provided at a fee of $7.00 (full time) or $1.00 per day for week-end or part time. Registration fee of $1.00 is included in both cases.

Transportation to Sylvan Lake will be provided at low cost.

Write to Camp Committee, Christian Commonwealth Youth Movement Council, 238 Examiner Bldg., Calgary, for further information.

Registrations should be in not later than August 15.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Birds were singing, the sun was shining, things were growing, and the Exhibition commenced Monday morning. All was right with the world.

"What are prospects for continued fair weather for fair week?" the B.I.R. asked a few of his clients, not sure whether he was punning or not.

Results follow:

EVELYN KINNEAR, University student: "Judging by climatic conditions today, I think prospects for fair weather for fair week are very fair indeed."

ANNA MALONE, assistant librarian: "Very good, I should say. It is too hot to say more."

MAC YOUNG, salesman: "I don't know what the weather is going to be like for the rest of the week, but I think if it stays this hot something will pop."

* * *

GERALD CROZIER, delivery man: "I confidently predict 'fair and warmer'."

Sneak Thieves Busy Already

Borden Park auto camp was the scene of a number of thefts during Saturday night, Sergeant Neilson and Constable Albert Woodward, ds responding to complaints Sunday.

F. C. Fleming, 708 18 avenue N.W., Calgary, stated that $20.45 in cash, two pairs of blankets, a razor and a hat were taken from his tent and car.

Mr. Preece of Athabasca stated that his sons, Colin, 13, and Vincent, 12, had $1.65 and $1.55 taken from their trousers, respectively.

One camper said that two young men had attempted to steal from his tent just at daylight. They left when he awakened.

Unemployment Is On Downward List

Unemployment is gradually decreasing in Alberta, as evidenced in returns filed with the various employment service offices throughout the province. For the week ending July 6 the total of men and women without employment was 8,724 as against 8,852 for the previous week. The total men registered in this city was 3,740 for the week ended July 6 as against 3,801 for the previous week and in Calgary 3,198 men on July 6 as against 3,243 the previous week.

C.N.R. Chairman Turns Interviewer

When Hon. C. P. Fullerton, chairman of the C.N.R. board of trustees stepped off a special train here Sunday evening, he turned the tables on reporters by asking questions.

"Have they fixed Death Corner yet?" asked Mr. Fullerton, referring to the railway crossing south of the city at which many accidents have occurred in the past.

"Yes, sir. Have you anything to say about the conditions?" demanded one of the newsmen, quickly re-turning the tables.

Ties Blaze Near High Level Bridge

Finding a pile of railway ties blazing at the top of the south approach of the high level bridge at 5 p.m. Sunday, a street car motorman went to work on the flames with his portable extinguisher. Meantime a passenger sent in a call to the fire department from Steen's drug store. When the chemical wagon arrived from the south side fire station the motorman continued on his run.

G. D. Brophy, Calgary, district passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific Railways, was in Edmonton on business Monday.

On his way to the Yukon with passengers, Pilot Stan McMillan was at Cameron Bay Monday with a Mackenzie Air Services Ltd. Fairchild. Harry Hayter was at Cameron Bay from Fort Norman, and Pilot Marlowe Kennedy was at Faust on the way to Peace River.

H. G. MacDonald, contractor, charged by Mayor J. A. Clarke with violations of his gravelling contract with the city, has been invited to confer with commissioners in this connection this week. The mayor charges the contractor hired men who were not entitled to the work. Meanwhile, Mayor Clarke is withholding a $12,000 city cheque due Mr. MacDonald.

* * *

Stating that passenger business this summer is "extremely gratifying," H. R. Mathewson, general passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific Railways, was in Edmonton on Monday. West coast business is particularly satisfactory, while Great Lakes traffic is also unusually heavy. Returning to service of the "Mountaineer," running between Chicago and Vancouver, after a lapse of four years, has been justified by improved conditions. Touring parties from the United States are numerous Mr. Mathewson states.

ELECTION DAY TO BE KNOWN NEAR FUTURE

Signs Indicate Early Announcement by Premier R. G. Reid

Date of the provincial general election is still under consideration, Premier R. G. Reid declared on Monday. Busily engaged with delegation and a host of visitors, the Premier had not summoned his colleagues to conference.

Nevertheless, there were signs of impending action.

Departmental officials were close on their heels. There was a general air of activity about the building that indicated the Premier was active.

One strong rumor was afloat that the government had named H. H. Crawford of this city as returning officer and that he had received his authority from the government.

That any appointment was made was denied by the Premier's office and in proof of this it was shown that no enabling Order-In-Council had been signed.

From Calgary came the rumor that the returning officer actually had opened his office here. This also was denied, along with the appointment of Mr. Crawford, although he may be appointed.

As it is known the province is anxious to go to the country before the Dominion general election and as information is that the Dominion appeal will be at the earliest possible moment, Premier Reid is expected to make his announcement either on Tuesday or Wednesday.

TRAFFIC HALTED ON NORTH ROAD

Traffic has been suspended on the Peace River highway for a distance of 22 miles along the Slave Lake sector, the provincial public works department stated on Monday.

Departmental officials stated this was necessary in view of the practical impossibility of handling highway traffic over the flooded area.

Everything possible is being done in the meantime to get the highway into condition for resumption of travel, but it is expected that a week or 10 days will elapse before this will be possible," stated one official.

Continuing, the official stated that "Scraping like 22 miles of highway have been put out of commission entirely in the vicinity of Slave Lake, and the handling of motor car travel by scow for this distance has become so cumbersome and so slow as to make it inadvisable to attempt to keep up the service." The department is discouraging travel beyond Athabasca going to the Peace River area.

Federal Officer Expected Here To Discuss Dispute

Informing Mayor J. A. Clarke he would be impossible to send a federal official to Edmonton to substitute for F. R. Harrison, fair wage officer, who is scheduled to negotiate the street railway shift dispute here, Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of labor, has notified the city he expects Mr. Harrison to arrive in Edmonton in the near future.

Some time ago city council invited Mr. Harrison to come to the city as a negotiator in an effort to settle the differences between night and day-run motormen over the shift question. Night-shift operators claim they should be given a portion of the day runs, but are opposed by the day-run motormen, who argue that seniority gives them this privilege.

Solutions of this problem has been delayed owing to the fact Mr. Harrison has not been able to leave Vancouver due to longshoremen's strike trouble.

ALBERTA WINS IN CREAMERY FAIR AWARDS

Largest Display of Butter Exhibits For City Exhibition

Following up the fine showing made at the Calgary exhibition, Alberta creameries, in the largest display of creamery butter exhibits in many a year, scored still further victories at the Edmonton exhibition in the judging completed Saturday evening prior to the opening of the exhibition.

The victories at Calgary and Edmonton of the various Alberta creameries places Alberta once more at the top of the list among all comers from other parts of the dominion, a position held only once previously during the past ten years, but one which Alberta butter frequently occupied in the years previous to the last decade.

EXTRA ACCOMMODATION

At the Edmonton show, exhibits were so numerous in the dairy department that extra accommodation had to be secured. A total of 168 entries in the two classes were made from Alberta creameries. These creameries won a total of 65 prizes compared with 55 from Manitoba creameries, their keenest competitors, Alberta's percentage of firsts was 51.6 with a total of 16 prizes, against Manitoba's 41.9 per cent. Of second prizes, Alberta creameries took 37, or 44 per cent against Manitoba's 31 or 36.9 per cent and of thirds Alberta took 12, or 46.2 per cent.

In the May butter group, there were 79 exhibits from Alberta creameries. This class is of butter made in May, and is judged according to stated requirements as to composition and analysed for moulds and yeasts in the dairy branch laboratory. In this group Alberta won eight firsts, 18 seconds and seven thirds, a total of 33 prizes out of 62 awarded. Manitoba, with 30 exhibits, won a total of 18 prizes. Saskatchewan took eight prizes and B.C. two prizes.

EIGHT FIRSTS

In the June group, for butter made during June, and judged according to the standard score card, without being required to meet the composition requirements, Alberta had 49 exhibits, and won eight firsts, 19 seconds and five thirds, a total of 32 prizes out of 79 awards.

In the May group the Alberta creameries which won first place were the Chipman creamery, Calmar creamery, Tofield creamery, New Sarepta creamery, Woodland Dairy, Edmonton, Innisfail creamery, Central creameries, Eckville, and the City Dairy, Lethbridge.

In the June group the Alberta first place winners were Crystal Creamery, Didsbury, Burns and Company, Edmonton, Tofield Creamery, Fertile Valley Creamery, Ponoka, Calmar Creamery, Stettler Creamery, Edbutt Creamery, Burns and Burns and Company, Hay Lakes.

FINEST QUALITY

Commenting upon the results, J. R. Sweeney, provincial dairy commissioner, said: "The creamery butter display at Edmonton this year is one of the largest on record, and represents the finest quality of butter made in the province's showing. The exhibition board is to be congratulated on restoring the June class and the fact that 49 creameries responded is encouraging. We have endeavored to encourage the plants to make exhibits at these exhibitions and the buttermakers have responded splendidly. The dairy products of this province deserve a share of the credit for the showing at Calgary and Edmonton, since much of the success is due to the fine quality of cream delivered."

Police Court

Finding that all roads do not lead to the fair in Edmonton this week, 1 men who chose the boxcar mode of transportation to bring themselves unwelcome visitors to the city and received fines of $3 or 10 days in jail when they appeared before Magistrate Col. P. C. H. Primrose in city police court Monday. All were young men, around 20 years of age, except two who appeared to be in their thirties.

Detective Sergeant Bert Petherham, with Detectives Murdo Munro, and Frank Kingzett, in company with Railway Constable Ed. Fiorendine, made a swift cleanup in the south side C.P.R. yards about midnight Sunday, rounding up 14 of the uninvited visitors. Two were arrested Saturday night and one Monday morning.

The men who appeared in police court Monday morning were: Geo Carson, Harold Switzor, John Penner, Harry Penner, Sam Salone, Kenneth Martin, Andy Kozak, Wm. Kangas, Douglas Jones, Fred Wilson, Russel Holdsworth, William Lunde, Jack Winters, Kenneth Cook, John Mair, James Kyle and Eric Sandberg.

John Dzus was fined $5 or 10 days charged with assaulting a peace officer in the performance of his duties. Speaking through an interpreter, he pleaded that he did not understand what was happening when he saw Sheriff's Officer W. Sebright taking away his motorcycle which was under seizure. Mr. Sebright, when attacked, summoned Detective Hugh Allen who received a twisted thumb when he attempted to place the man under arrest.

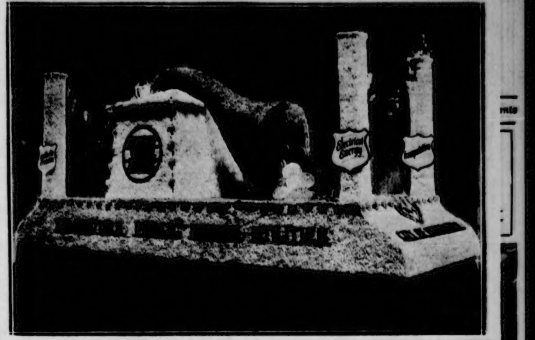
Emil Buhring announced his discovery of diphtheria antitoxin in 1890. In 1901 he received the Nobel prize in medicine for his discovery of diphtheria serum.

Loyal Citizens Picnic Success

The annual picnic of the Edmonton Loyal Citizens' Association was a complete success. Even the weather man turned in a good day. The children of the members enjoyed every minute of the day and, thanks to the merchants of the city, were well equipped with the necessary ice cream, drinks, etc., that go to make up a real picnic.

The committee in charge of the picnic was: Mrs. Swirsky, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Hodge, Miss Bellingham, J. P. Summers, J. Cockram, H. Keays, W. Brenner, A. E. Davis and, last but not least was the "umpire," A. B. Ansell.

See the House of Magic at the Edmonton Exhibition — The Scientific Wonder Show at Chicago World's Fair.



Above are shown two samples of the many unusual floats which will be in the Exhibition parade on Tuesday morning. The parade will be the finest ever staged in Edmonton, and a feature will be the magnificent Chinese float sponsored by the Chinese community of the city. Four mounted warriors dressed in ornate Chinese military costume will precede this float. Mrs. Edward Marr, surrounded by a bevy of bridesmaids, is to be the "enthroned Goddess" on the float. Her attendants will be Laura Quong, Mrs. M. Gee, Jean Mah, Grace Mah, Edith Mah and Evelyn Gee. The float was constructed and decorated by James Lem and Eddie Wing.

49TH TO HOLD CHURCH PARADE

The annual Church Parade of the Forty Ninth Battalion (Edmonton Regiment) Association, will take place on the Parliament building grounds on Sunday, July 21, at 11 p.m. Former members of the regiment will parade at the market square at 10 a.m. and will march off at 10:30 under the command of General W. A. Griesbach, the original colonel of the regiment.

The First Edmonton Regiment, the perpetuating militia unit of the Forty Ninth Battalion, will furnish the color party and escort. The parade will be led by the brass band of the First Edmonton Regiment and the colors will be lifted.

The services will be conducted by Captain G. G. Reynolds, chaplain of the association. Cars will be provided for hospital cases and there will be chairs at the grounds for the accommodation of older persons. In the event of rain the service will be held in the Memorial Hall.

"D" Company will lead the parade followed by "A" "B" and "C" companies. The men responsible for the organization and attendance of their respective companies are as follows: "D" company; N. A. Arnold, J. Blewett, F. T. Purnell and Albert Fowlie; "A" company: George E. Gleave, J. L. Stone and Dan Collins; "B" company: T. Robb W. Hunter, Colonel A. H. Elliott; "C" company: Neville Jones.

Broomhall

CHICAGO, July 15—Indications of rust in the U. S. have been temporarily dissipated. The disease will not spread under present weather conditions there and unless other crop deterioration should occur this month, it is more than likely that the U. S. farmers in the Northwest will be blessed with heavy wheat yields this year. There was an active demand to buy farms this spring and to borrow seed grain, and it now seems pretty certain that an excellent return will be obtained from the labor. The present high barometer and low temperatures is what the farmer needs. The chief news on Saturday was the surprising strength at Buenos Aires despite the decline in other markets. There has been no rain of importance in the wheat belt of the Argentine for many months and seeding is now badly delayed in the large province of Buenos Aires, besides the northern provinces where the soil is so dry that dust storms have been reported.

HEAVY INDUSTRY COMES TO FORE

NEW YORK, July 15.—Heavy industry issues, backward for some time, came to the front in today's stock market. Quiet buying lifted the steels, rails and equipments substantially. The close was firm. Transfers approximated 900,000 shares.

Death Cheated At Falls Cliff

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 15. —David B. Adams, of Stamford, escaped death today when he was pushed over the Niagara cliff at Honeymoon Point by a crane but landed on a ledge 10 feet below.

Workmen rescued him from his precarious position. He suffered injuries to face, head, arms and hands but his condition in hospital was not regarded as serious.

THE

Winnipeg Grain Exchange . . . . and the Farmers!

Measures to Promote Adequate Payments to Grain Producers Consistently Supported and Advocated by the Grain Trade

The opposition of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange and of prominent grain traders to the Canadian Grain Board Bill, in the form in which it was originally introduced in parliament and sent to a Special Committee, has been made the pretext for representing the Grain Trade as being antagonistic to the interests of the producers.

The provisions in the original Bill for compulsory marketing of grain by a Canadian Grain board, combined with the system of initial payments and participation certificates (that is, for a compulsory grain pool) and for the virtual confiscation of the property and machinery of the grain trade to the use of the Board, were opposed by the representatives of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange and the trade. But the President of the Exchange and all other members of the Grain Trade who gave evidence before the Special Committee specifically advocated measures to secure reasonable payments to producers, whatever might be the level of international grain prices. It should be emphasized that the Grain Trade representatives were the first witnesses to appear before the Committee.

In his evidence before the Committee on June 20th, Roy W. Milner, president of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, in an official statement, said:

"As the agents of the producers in the storing, transportation and merchandising of their grain the interest of grain traders, indeed their very existence, depends upon the maintenance of the farmers in as sound and prosperous a condition as can be attained.

"The members of the Exchange are vitally concerned to secure for grain growers the largest possible return for their crops, to develop and maintain the widest and most remunerative markets for their grain and grain products, to keep the costs of handling and merchandising within the most reasonable limits and to assist by the provision of the most efficient and economical machinery for these purposes in meeting the competition offered by other grain producing countries."

"The Winnipeg Grain Exchange realizes the gravity of the present situation but feels that the sooner a policy is adopted of selling our grain crop in the open market at prices that will find purchasers in the markets of the world in competition with the grain of other countries the sooner will the present difficulties disappear. In the meantime it may be necessary to subsidize the producers either by some system of price support or by other means, and in that case the Winnipeg Grain Exchange will continue to co-operate with the Government."

In the course of examination by the Chairman and members of the Committee, Mr. Milner expressed himself as being in favor of subsidizing the producers if world wheat prices declined and of establishing a minimum price to be paid to growers.

James A. Richardson, president of James Richardson & Sons, Limited, said in his evidence:

"If our Government wants to give the farmers financial assistance under existing conditions (and I would certainly like to see them do it), then there are several ways that this can be done. I consider it is possible to assure our producer a guaranteed fixed price, but still to permit an open market, so that if our market declines below the fixed price the farmer would get a certificate from the elevator company entitling him to collect the difference between the fixed price and what his wheat actually realized. The farmer might, on the other hand, if thought advisable be paid a direct subsidy. It is a government problem as to how this matter may best be met, but it must be accepted as a fact, that the foreign buyer will continue to buy wherever he can buy the most with his money, and that he will take full advantage of depreciated currencies in certain parts of the world, and it is quite futile to try and induce him to subsidize citizens of other countries."

"I would rather like to see the farmer assured of a fixed minimum price, that would give him some protection against depreciated currencies of the southern hemisphere, and a board with authority to use stabilizing influences in the market if they thought it were necessary, and to feed out our surplus wheat as and when the market would take it, and to try to allow the trade the largest possible freedom, and to act as a stabilizing factor, as an insurance and safety factor; to operate largely in that way would depend, of course, a good deal on good judgment being employed."

The evidence of Sidney T. Smith, president, Reliance Grain Co., Limited, was as follows:

"It would, in my opinion, be a good idea to establish a fixed minimum price and if wheat reached that figure and there were no other buyers the government agency should take the wheat offered, but would continue to sell wheat at international prices and if the international price were higher than the minimum price the Board would, of course, not require to make purchases. I do not suggest that this Board attempt to dispose of the accumulation of the past five or six years by dumping it on the market and thereby risk a chaotic break in prices, but I suggest that there be a stabilization policy through the open market and that this surplus wheat be fed into the market from time to time as conditions may permit."

Robert McKee, General Manager, Canada Grain Export Company, Limited, representing the Vancouver Grain Exchange, said:

"We recognize further that 'until private traders shall have been encouraged to resume active trading in wheat in forward positions as was done prior to the government's participation in the market, some market support from time to time may be necessary to handle smoothly the large crop without unreasonable price declines."

Every representative of the Grain Trade urged the giving of assistance to wheat producers if the international price level were disadvantageous to them. They were unanimous in expressing approval, if the Special Committee and Parliament saw fit to adopt them, of the proposals ultimately embodied in the Canadian Grain Board Act for the payment of a minimum price to farmers, the continuance in operation of the existing grain marketing machinery and the gradual liquidation of the Canadian wheat surplus. These proposals were accepted by Parliament largely on recommendation of the Grain Trade, the compulsory features originally proposed being withheld from operation until made effective by proclamation.

No attempt to represent the Winnipeg Grain Exchange and its members as antagonistic to the producers' interest can be successful in face of the adoption by Parliament of these measures and of the evidence given by the representatives of the Exchange and the Grain Trade, as quoted above from the official record.

Plan Reception

BERLIN, July 15—Plans were completed today for a rousing reception for the delegation of British war veterans arriving here tomorrow to return the recent good will visit to England by German veterans.

CALGARY STAR NEAR LEADERS BISLEY CAMP

Many Fine Scores Made As Marksmen Battle For Laurels

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 15 —Color-Sergeant T. Hickman set a new record in winning the Stock Exchange Saturday at the National Rifle Association's meeting. He scored 150, getting possibles in all three shoots. The Stock Exchange is fired at 200, 500 and 600 yards.

Of the Canadians in this event, Sgt. C. Iddiols of Calgary won 40 shillings. Capt. W. Hunt of Winnipeg, Lt. James Boa of Montreal, C. Q. M. S. Alex Parnell of Verdun, Que., and Lt.-Col. C. W. G. Gibson of Hamilton each won 20 shillings.

Twelve entrants scored possibles —50—in the Duke of Cambridge fired at 900 yards. The prizes were shared amongst them. Several Canadians scored 48s, including Lt. Boa, Capt. A. B. Coulter of Ottawa, Iddiolles, Lt. P. J. Martinson of Le Pas, Que., and Lt. H. D. Proctor of Ottawa; Boa, Coulter, Iddiols and Martinson won 40 shillings and Gibson, Proctor and Trainor 20.

PERFECT CANUCKS

In the Daily Mail trophy two Canadians registered perfect 50s and will shoot off later with others tied on the top. They were Sgt. M. Penman and Cpl. E. E. Wright, both of Montreal. In this event Sgt. W.D. H. Edsell of Ottawa, Martinson and Parnell also received 20 shillings.

The Belgian Challenge Cup, open to teams of four, went to the east Scotland club with a score of 373. It is awarded to the team whose members make the highest aggregate scores in the Stock Exchange competition.

The Graham Cup, fired at 300, 500 and 600 yards and open to serving members of the Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve, was won by Lt. H. Moore Maybe with 349.

Manitoba Tennis Stars Are Beaten By U.S. Players

WINNIPEG, July 15.—Dominated by American players, with Brandon and Dauphin entries showing up brightly, the Manitoba lawn tennis championships came to a close here Saturday.

Don Leavens of Milwaukee, turned back Marvin Wachman, a clubmate, 6-4 7-5, 6-3 to win the men's open singles championship. Later, Leavens and Wachman joined forces in the open doubles final and lost a hard four-set match to Carl Fischer of Detroit and Milton Bendell of Milwaukee, 5-7 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

Mrs. F. E. Cameron of Brandon defeated somewhat off her game in the ease in which she won the ladies' singles title from Mrs. G. G. Pritt of Winnipeg in straight sets. The scores were 6-0, 6-3.

Coast Marksman Finishes Hat Trick

HEALS RANGE, VICTORIA, July 15—Sergeant J. W. Hall of the Royal Canadian Air Force, Vancouver, performed the hat trick when he carried off Saturday a week of record-breaking performances at the 37th annual British Columbia Rifle Association meet.

The Vancouver marksman became the first triple winner of the "big three" in the history of the association. Saturday he copped the lieutenant-governor's match with 171 out of a possible 178 and went on to capture the grand aggregate championship with 733 out of a possible 755.

Earlier in the week, Kier won the all-comers aggregate, scoring 562 out of a possible 755. He dropped only 22 points during the week's shoot for an average of 4.65 points per shot.

Germany Advances In Davis Cup Play

PRAHA, July 15. — Germany swept Czechoslovakia aside in the Davis cup European zone finals yesterday to earn the right to oppose the United States in the interzone finals at Wimbledon next week-end.

Baron Gottfried Von Cramm, ace of the German racquet wielders, defeated Roderich Menzel in a blistering battle that finally saw the ailing Czech exhausted, 6-2, 6-4, 4-6, 5-7, 6-1, and young Henkel defeated Jan Tuska 2-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-0. The final team scores stood 4-1. Menzel having turned back Henkel in a first day match.

Pool Head Says Wheat Situation Far Beyond Political Issue Now

REGINA, July 15.—Addressing the convention of Rural Municipal Secretaries here, L. C. Brouillette, president of Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, expressed the view that the wheat situation in Canada was now beyond becoming a political issue.

"It is encouraging, and was hoped for by many, that political parties could get together in support of a policy and decide upon a most suitable one," Mr. Brouillette said of recent occurrences at Ottawa bearing on the passage of the Canada Grain Act. "It is now recognized that the wheat situation is a national question.

Mr. Brouillette was of the opinion that the principles of the new Wheat Marketing Act were in no way different now as compared with those contained in the original draft, particularly with regard to the "so-called compulsory features."

The act, said Mr. Brouillette, was an indication that recognition had at last been won for western producers to share to some extent on an equitable basis in advantages that have been accruing to eastern industries by way of protection for many years regardless whether the government was Liberal or Conservative.

He added that the act contained provisions whereby a coarse grain could be handled along the lines set out for wheat.

Modern Fighters Only Cake Eaters Raps Old Terror

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—Sailor Tom Sharkey, he-man of the rough, tough pugilistic era of four decades ago, drummed Max Baer out of the heavyweight ranks and reduced the entire division to "a bunch of cake eaters, not a fighter in a carload."

The bull necked, barrel chested ring terror of his day, who fought them all from John L. Sullivan down to James J. Jeffries, made a partial exception in the case of Joe Louis. He described the Detroit negro as "a great fighter but great only because there are no good ones in the ring today."

Baer's "feeble efforts" in losing the title to James J. Braddock, Sharkey said, "must have been a shock to every living ex-champion.

"That excuse he gave about having a bad hand made me laugh. I fought Jim Jeffries 25 rounds at Coney Island with four broken ribs and haven't used it as an excuse for losing yet.

"Braddock will lose the title to Louis if they ever meet. I don't think they will."

JOEY TRIUMPHS IN COAST RACES

VANCOUVER, July 15.—It was an enthusiastic crowd at Brighouse Park Saturday that cheered Henry Palazz as he booted Joey, winner of six consecutive prairie handicaps, to victory in the classic Michael Brighouse stake.

The little black gelding outgrated an all-star field in the run to the wire after the fastest horse race in Vancouver's history. Hard back of the leaders the first half, he moved up gradually and came from behind to defeat the famous Trombone. Mr. Bun was a good third.

Queen Avondale paid the highest price of the day when she won going away in the seventh race, to return $12.60 to bettors for a $2 ticket. Tableau Vivant paid $10.50 to place in the same race.

Charles Reid Is Liberal Choice In Yukon Riding

DAWSON, Y.T., July 15. — Charles Reid of Vancouver will be the Liberal standard bearer in the Yukon territorial riding in the coming Dominion elections. He was chosen at a convention meeting here Friday night.

Nothing But Sox Appeal Say Girls

"Nothing on but his socks," was the account given to police Sunday night by two girls who said they had seen a nude man in the vicinity of 123 street and 118 avenue. Police responded to a call at 9 p.m. Sunday but search of the surrounding bush failed to discover Tarzan with the sox appeal.

PETTY THIEVES BUSY IN CITY

Two thieves were "caught in the act" of making big steals early Sunday but both escaped, taking their loot which in one case was a tent.

Mrs. C. F. Cummer, 10317 134 street, was awakened at 3 a.m. Sunday and, looking out of her window saw a man departing with an umbrella tent which had been standing in the yard beside her house. She shouted at him but he kept moving, getting into a car which he had parked on the lane, toward the Stony Plain road, and departed. Mrs. Cummer called the police station and the prowler was traced to the scene but a search of the locality failed to discover any suspicious persons.

At 1.45 a.m. Sunday R. D. Taylor, 9820 108A street, telephoned the police station stating that a burglar had entered his house and escaped. Awakened by the sound of a man moving, he had risen and switched on the light. He heard someone run from the house and arriving downstairs found his trench coat and two fedora hats missing.

Detectives Ed Kenny, Kenny O'Brien and A. Wichinsky responded and searched the lane and around neighboring houses but the thief had escaped.

Harold Braddock, 10049 103 street, told police that $45 had been stolen from a purse in his room Friday night.

Leo St. Martib of Legal reported that, while his car was parked on 104 avenue, 114 blocks west of the Calgary trail, Saturday, two suits, a woman's house dress and a purse were stolen.

Leo Trimble, Hudson's Bay store superintendent, reported that a cinema ticket was taken from the store late Friday afternoon.

Air Chief To Go On Inspection Trip

A. D. McLean, superintendent of the provincial federal department of Civil Aviation, is leaving from here Monday in a specially chartered Canadian Airways, Ltd., plane on an inspection tour of northern air bases.

C. H. "Punch" Dickins, O.B.E., western superintendent of Canadian Airways, Ltd., will pilot the plane. The trip, which will take the party as far as Dawson City, White Horse and Telegraph Creek, will take at least three weeks to complete.

Photography Expert A. Sunderland will accompany McLean and Dickins and it is planned to make up-to-date maps of large stretches of unmapped territories in the Peace River district.

The route planned is down the Mackenzie valley, west to Dawson City, White Horse and Mayo and thence to Telegraph Creek.

At Prince Rupert Dr. Camsell, deputy minister of mines, will board the plane, which will then be flown to the Stikine River and Dease Lake.

Dickins will then return by way of Cameron Bay, Fort Rae and McMurray.

It is the first inspection tour of northern air bases Mr. McLean has undertaken.

Many Will Attend Legionaires Frolic

PEACE RIVER, Alta., July 15— The big annual event, the Canadian Legion picnic, takes place on Wednesday afternoon. The feature of this year's activities will be the tournament for agricultural association. In previous years Nampa was the selected spot or the jack pine flats section of the city, but this year the scheme is bigger and better than ever before. Preparation for the entertainment are in full swing and is being planned, owing to the more central nature of Peace River, as it gives children and the far west an equal chance with those of the east.

Farmer Found Dead In Barn

MOOSE JAW, Sask., July 15.—M. K. Wannamaker, farmer of the Dunkirk district southwest of here for 25 years, was found dead in his barn by members of his family Saturday night. The body was suspended from a beam by a rope, fastened about his neck. No inquest will be held.

Priest Jailed

BERLIN, July 15.—Germany jailed another priest today for illegal traffic in currency. The Rev. Father Julien Allen Fridolin Corbinian, was sentenced to serve two years in prison for having sent 1,000 marks to his brother in France.

ROAD REPORT

With the Peace River highway showing a decided improvement over the week-end, roads in the northern section of the province were generally good according to the A.M.A. report Monday.

A detailed report follows: Jasper highway, fair to rough, under construction; Peace River highway, all ferries and scows running, road good in most places; St. Paul road, good; Edmonton - Lloydminster, good; Edmonton-Wainwright, good; Edmonton-Chauvin, good; Edmonton-Hughenden, good; Edmonton-Provost, good; Edmonton-Veteran, good; Edmonton-Mullhurst, dry but rough, Edmonton-Cherhill, rough.

COWBOY FROM U.S. CHAMPION BRONK BUSTER

Turk Greenough, Red Lodge, Montana, Cops Stampede Honors

CALGARY, July 15—Perseverance had its reward for Turk Greenough, cowboy from Red Lodge Montana. For six years he came to the Calgary stampede with the North American bucking horse riding championship as his goal and each time went home empty-handed.

In his seventh attempt Saturday in the Stampede finals Greenough added a title of the topnotchers and won the title with its $1,000 cash reward and the Bennett trophy, donated by Premier R. B. Bennett. Harry Knight of Banff, Alta., with a two-point lower rating, was second.

KNIGHT OUT OF MONEY

Pete Knight of Crossfield, Alta., world's champion bronk rider, turned down his horses in both the North American and Canadian championship horse events and finished out of the money.

Herman Linder, versatile competitor from Cardston, Alta., carried off both the North American and Canadian all-round cowboy crowns. His only victory, however, was in the steer riding contest, in which he placed high in all other events, finishing second in the Canadian bucking horse event.

The Canadian bronk riding title and the Prince of Wales trophy went to Harley Walsh of Madden, Alta. C. M. Lund, Raymond, Alta., was third.

CLARESHOLM ROPER WINS

Pat Burton of Claresholm, Alta., headed off a band of United States entrants in the North American calf roping competition. Jim Cross-ley, Roswell, N.M., was second; Irby Mundy, Uttleyville, Colo., third, and Gene Pruitt, Ardmore, Okla., fourth. Burton also won the Canadian calf roping title.

Further honors were gathered by the Linder family of Cardston when Vera Warner, Herman's brother, captured the girls' North American championship for wild steer decorating. Hub Whiteman, Fort Worth, Texas, was second.

"Chuck" Wilson, former champion from Thermopolis, Ariz., placed third in the North American bucking horse riding event, and Melvin Troth, Ada, Okla., was fourth.

The Earl of Egmont special for the best and wildest qualifying ride in the stampede finals of Canadian saddle events was awarded to Harvy Knight. Irby Mundy won the Calgary trail for milking contest and Bob Crosby, Roswell, N.M., was second.

Pay Courtesy Call On Premier Reid

Hon. C. P. Fullerton, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Canadian National Railways, and high officials of the C. N. R., paid a courtesy call on Premier John Reid at the legislature buildings on Monday.

With Hon. Mr. Fullerton were S. J. Hungerford, president of the C. N. R.; J. Edouard Labelle, a member of the Board of Trustees; A. E. Warren, in charge of western C. N. R. and W. J. Munro, Alberta divisional superintendent.

The party remained a few minutes in the Premier's office and then left the buildings under the guidance of Mr. Munro.

Premier Reid declared the visit had been entirely social.

Visits to His Honor Lieut.-Gov W. L. Walsh and the daily newspapers were also listed on the distinguished visitors' agenda.

FIVE KILLED, 50 WOUNDED IRISH RIOTS

Mobs Loot and Fire Buildings as Disorders Continue

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, July 15—Mobs looted and fired buildings Sunday in a continuation of Protestant-Catholic disorders which have killed five and wounded 50 since Friday.

Disorders spread Sunday afternoon from York Street, the riot center, to the "Sandy Row" area, where a mob attacked four homes and set two afire. Two buildings burned to the ground before firemen could get into action.

Deaths reached five when Thomas McDowell, 36, who was shot in the stomach Friday night, died. The riot zone was quieter tonight, but some looting continued.

Drought Area Still Is Most Valuable Land

WINNIPEG, July 15.—Western Canada's so-called drought area still is and will continue to be, one of the most valuable stretches of agricultural districts in the Dominion. So concluded Dr. E. S. Archibald, of the department of agriculture, Ottawa, after an inspection of reclamation efforts in the drought area.

$30,000 Fire Hits Denholm Elevator

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask., July 15—Damage estimated at $30,000 was done at Denholm by fire which broke out early last night and destroyed the British American elevator company's building and 7,000 bushels of wheat, three box cars and a coal shed and a quantity of supplies. The fire is believed to have started in the grain elevator.

SIX KILLED AS GIANT DUTCH PLANE FALLS

Burned to Death as U.S Built Machine Crashes After Take-Off

AMSTERDAM, July 15.—Six persons died amid flames when a giant Dutch commercial airplane carrying 14 passengers and a crew of six to Sweden crashed Sunday soon after the takeoff. It was built in the United States.

Heroism of the ground staff, a steward and a Norwegian passenger was credited with saving 12 lives. They risked their own safety to free the other trapped occupants.

Shortly after the plane had taken off something went wrong with the engine and the pilot headed back for the airport. In an effort to avoid a crash he turned the machine from a dike in the course of construction, but hit the ground 60 yards from the airport building and the machine burst into flames.

In the terrific heat the ground staff, the steward and the Norwegian passenger rescued 8 persons, three of whom were badly injured.

The six who died were two British passengers, Newman and Hodson, and four members of the crew —the pilot, Silverstein; the wireless operator, Siebert and mechanics, Brom and Vandyk.

FORMER U.S. CONSUL DIES

MONTREAL, July 15. — Charles Sumner Wood, former United States Consul General at Prague, Czechoslovakia, and formerly on United States consular staffs in Great Britain, Spain and South American countries, died here suddenly Monday at the home of friends. He was 72.

Mr. Winans retired in 1928 after more than 30 years of service as an able official of the United States. He was born in Chelsea, Michigan, and graduated from the University of Michigan.

Stevens Pleased Over Outlook For His New Party

OTTAWA, July 15.—Back in Ottawa today from Toronto and Montreal, Hon. H. H. Stevens, leader of the new Reconstruction party, today reported encouragement from central, eastern and western Canada.

The two days I spent in Toronto and the short week-end in Montreal were surprisingly encouraging, and I was amazed at progress made in organization and active reaction to the manifesto of the new party," he said.

"I am very very satisfied with the situation that is developing."

Old-Time Resident Of District Dies

Resident of the Edmonton district for nearly 40 years, the past seven years residing at Lloydminster with his daughter, Mrs. R. J. Robinson, William Samuel Baker, 89, died Sunday in the Lloydminster hospital.

He is survived by two sons, Albert H., of Edmonton, and Chas. G., of Westlock, and four daughters, Mrs. Richard Boswell, of Bear River, N.S., Mrs. J. J. Magee and Mrs. S. W. Whetstone, both of Edmonton, and Mrs. Robinson, at Lloydminster.

PATS and PANS by —BILL LEWIS—

EVERETT McGowan, who many of the old Eskimo hockey fans will remember back in 1925, returned to the city over the week-end after several years absence. . . . The former teammate to Duke Keats, Art Gagne, Ty Arbour and the remaining stars who made up this city's great squad in the old professional days, makes his return to familiar haunts in a new role. . . . He's one of a trio of roller-skating stars who will perform in a grandstand attraction at the Edmonton Exhibition. . . . His partners, two equally brilliant lady skaters, are Ruth Mack and Billy Lee, and this trio has performed all the way along the exhibition circuit.

McGowan will be remembered on the Eskimo team in 1925, going to Winnipeg in '26 when the old Western Hockey League disbanded and players joined the major hockey circuit of today—the National League. . . . After a short stay in Winnipeg he joined New York Rangers and later was sent to Springfield in a minor loop, for which circuit he played three years. . . .

NOT only did McGowan star in the puck chasing, but he had a turn of speed which brought him no less than three world championships. . . . He was national and international champion from 1920-22, joining professional skating ranks in the latter part of 1922. . . . He was a brilliant skater, and according to reports upon past performances is equally clever in the art of roller-skating. . . . Mr. McGowan, Miss Mack and Miss Lee will be seen billed on the grand stand program at the fair grounds all this week. . . .

In his finest form, and flashing some of his most brilliant tennis, Harry Kinloch, suitably named "Flaxen Flash" of the local courts, romped through the singles final at Glenora on Saturday and retained this city's championship crown. . . . Kinloch then went out to score double honors as he and his doubles mate—John Oliver—captured the men's open doubles title. . . . The tiny mite of the nets was never in greater form and his performance was one laden with tennis brilliance.

THERE should be some excellent racing at the Edmonton track today. . . . Over two hundred and twenty head of sound racing blood stock were imported from Victoria Park over the week-end to race on the six-day program at the Edmonton Exhibition. . . .

EATON HURLS 3-0 TRIUMPH FOR SHASTAS

Locals Defeat Delburne In Exhibition Ball Game Sunday

A five-hit pitching performance by Emerson "Buck" Eaton paved the way for Webb King's Shasta Royals to defeat Delburne Elks by a score of 3-0 in an exhibition baseball game at Renfrew Park Sunday afternoon.

Hurling steady ball throughout the afternoon, with only an odd lapse in effectiveness, Eaton kept the visitors well in check in the pinches and they were never able to score on him. On two or three occasions, they threatened to break into the run column, but Buck always came through when necessary and the result in Royals' favor was largely due to this "money" twirling.

SWANSON DOES WELL

Eaton, however, was given stiff opposition for mound honors from Swanson, a young right-hander who was on the hillock for Delburne. Swanson gave up but four scattered singles, walked only two men and struck out three. The youthful hurler gave a fine display throughout the nine innings.

Leading the attack for Royals was Phil Horn, fleet city fireman playing centre-field. Horn crashed out one two-bagger and also scored two of the winners' three runs.

Bonham, slim shortstop of the Elks, was a tower of strength both on the attack and defence. In addition to handling five chances safely, Bonham plastered the ball for two hits in four tries.

Royals went into the lead in the first inning and then clinched matters with a pair of counters in the third frame. Neither squad was able to register in any of the other sessions.

Old Eskimo Star Back To Perform

EVERETT McGOWAN

Former professional hockey player with Edmonton Eskimos in the old Northwestern Hockey League, Everett McGowan returns to Edmonton after several years absence. In making his return he does so in a brand new role—that of a star on roller-skates — and will perform with his two lady partners, Ruth Mack and Billy Lee, in a grandstand attraction at the Edmonton Exhibition. McGowan will be remembered as a star speed skater with three world records and as an ace performer with Edmonton's old Eskimos back in 1925.

E. C. D. IS SECOND GIRLS' BASEBALL

Harry Prevey's E.C.D. girls advanced into second place in the City Girls Senior Baseball League Saturday night when they edged out a 3-2 victory over the Army and Navy club in their fixture at Boyle street.

A timely three base hit with one on in the seventh by Mildred Little paved the way for the milk merchant's win. Little's hit drove in the tying run while she scored to give her mates the lead. The winning combination of their victory in the ninth when they added another two runs to their lead.

Prudy Harris, who pitched for the E.C.D. nine, turned in a smart performance, limiting the opposition to four hits.

Mrs. Vic Johnson Also Gives Clever Performance, Featuring in Trio of Championship Events

FLAXEN FLASH SETS RECORD

By JOHN OLIVER

Striding the field like a colossus, raising his game to a new peak and establishing a record for consecutive wins of the title, Harry Kinloch, "Flaxen Flash" of Edmonton tennis, on Saturday afternoon at the Glenora Tennis Club, won the men's open singles of the Edmonton and District Tennis championships, defeating in the final, Walter McIntosh, in straight sets at 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

Kinloch made it a perfect tournament for himself on Sunday when partnered with John Oliver, he won the open doubles by defeating in the final the fancied team of W. E. Harrison-Walter McIntosh, in sequence sets at 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

Mrs. John did the "hat trick."

She not only won the women's open singles, defeating Bessie McAvoy in the final at 6-2, 6-2, but she won the open mixed doubles partnered with W. E. Harrison, defeating Casselman-Miss McAvoy at 8-6, 6-4 and the open women's doubles, partnered with Helen Wolfe and defeating in the final Miss McAvoy and Josephine Carrigan, at 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

WON HER TITLE FOR SEVENTH YEAR

This was the seventh year in succession Mrs. Johnson has won the open singles—a record standing by itself, while she also comes into permanent possession of the mixed doubles cup, having won it the required number of times in succession.

In winning the men's open singles, Kinloch hung up his fifth consecutive win of the title, a feat never before performed. He first won the crown in 1931 and has retained it through the years. Fred J. Mitchell won four times in succession in former years, while Dr. M. M. Dunsworth won three in a row and had a couple of breaks during his long reign as the city's premier player.

CHAMPIONS ALL

Men's Singles—Harry Kinloch.
Women's Singles — Mrs. Vic Johnson.
Men's Doubles—Harry Kinloch-John Oliver.
Women's Doubles—Mrs. Johnson-Helen Wolfe.
Mixed Doubles—W. E. Harrison-Mrs. Johnson.

While there are many notable names connected with the game here, the three players above-mentioned, Kinloch, Dunsworth, and Mitchell, stand out as the "Big Three" in the history of the game here. Their records stand far and above the rest of the field.

Mrs. Johnson has proved herself as supreme in her field as Kinloch has in his and there appears to be none on the horizon to challenge the supremacy of either.

McINTOSH SPLENDID

On Saturday Kinloch was the same relentless, ever-pressing opponent as usual. He ran McIntosh from corner to corner mercilessly and time after time nicked the sidelines with scorching placements. McIntosh played splendidly but was unable to make much headway against the well-nigh errorless tennis Kinloch was playing.

Mrs. Johnson was hitting the ball hard and accurately in her final against Miss McAvoy. She punished everything that came her way and gave a splendid exhibition throughout.

In the men's open doubles final, Kinloch-Oliver set a blistering pace, driving hard and as though to knock the cover off the ball each time they hit it. Harrison and McIntosh stormed the net but the speed of the returns from the other side of the net frequently caught them flat-footed or forced them into error. And while Kinloch-Oliver have seldom played better as a team, Harrison-McIntosh have been seen to better advantage, as both missed shots they ordinarily would not.

IN RARE FORM

The women's doubles final was a hard-fought affair with the ultimate issue in doubt until the end. All four participants were in rare form and the match bristled with interest.

The mixed doubles final saw Harrison-Mrs. Johnson get home in two close sets, having just enough in reserve to nose out a close decision from Casselman-Miss McAvoy.

Most secondary events were run off and the rest will be completed on Monday.

Results of week-end play are:

Still Ranks Star Player City Tennis

HARRY KINLOCH

Perennial champion of this city's singles in tennis, Harry Kinloch retained that crown on Saturday as he played his most brilliant brand of tennis in the singles finals. The "Flaxen Flash" retained his honors by defeating Walter McIntosh for a straight set victory.

ELEVENS PLAY FINEST MATCH THIS SEASON

Radials Whip Hearts By 4-2 Score In Soccer Competition

It was one of the finest soccer clashes seen at Diamond Park this season, or so is the opinion of many who saw Radials turn in a masterful performance against Hearts and a winning one by a 4-2 score.

Hearts opened with a great burst of speed and for a long time kept the Radials on the defence. After 20 minutes, Watkins scored for the Hearts. Only a few seconds later, Hearts missed a golden chance of increasing their score.

It took Bob Graham to place the count all even, just five minutes before time.

Radials put on the pressure as play was resumed and five minutes had gone when Johnson scored a beauty for Radials. A few minutes later the same player scored another fine tally. Bob Graham made it four on a lone effort and the Hearts came back and Hyslop scored on a rebound for the final marker.

It is foolish and dangerous for a driver, motoring in a mountainous region to throw his machine out of gear and depend entirely on his brakes while traveling down grade.

Local Cricketers Beat Ridley Team Here On Saturday

Edmonton Eleven Has 211 For Seven While Best Visitors Could Tally Was 109 Runs

With beautiful weather prevailing and Hon. W. L. Walsh honoring the game with his presence, Edmonton cricketers came into their own on Saturday with a fine win over the Ridley College team by a score of 211 for 7 to 109.

Wanting only six minutes to time, the Ridley boys struggled hard to make a draw of the game, but Edmonton would not be denied and when Hargreaves caught the last man of his own bowling, the winners were given a great ovation on their achievement.

Winning the toss, Edmonton sent Duncan and Rimell in to open the innings. Rimel was the first to go when he put a catch up to Mitchell. He scored 15 runs. Weaver then joined Duncan and so well did they collar the bowling by careful and yet forceful batting, that the century was sent up in a little over an hour and a quarter's batting. Jim Weaver was then caught after scoring 59. Duncan continued to bat well and with some luck too, and he also scored a well earned 59.

THOMSON FEATURED

A feature of the day's play was the cyclonic hitting of Doug. Thomson, who started in, scoring 51 in twenty-one minutes.

None of the other Edmonton men did much as they went in to hit and were soon back in the pavilion. Rowley declared the innings closed at the tea interval for 211 for seven wickets.

Purcell, Wilson and E. MacLaughlan got two wickets each and Cameron got the other. The fielding was good.

AGAIN TOP SCORER

W. E. N. Bell was again the top scorer for Ridley with 41, and Scandrett also batted well for his 26 but the other batsmen were always in difficulties with the bowling.

Walter Campbell for Edmonton was the outstanding bowler of the side with the splendid average of four wickets for seven runs. He was only asked to play after the game had started, Kinley unable to play owing to a poisoned finger. Hargreaves too was successful getting four for 31, by being by the caught and bowled route.

Edmonton's fielding was also good and the Ridley boys could not take chances in running between the wickets.

The College boys left Saturday night for Calgary where they play today and Tuesday.

BAER IS OUT OF FIGHT PICTURE

NEW YORK, July 15.—Disclosing a shift in heavyweight fight plans which apparently eliminates Max Baer from the picture, Promoter Mike Jacobs has closed negotiations for a 15-round match between Joe Louis and Max Schmeling, to be held Sept. 18 at the Polo Grounds.

The winner, according to Jacobs, will likely be matched with James J. Braddock for the world's championship in 1936.

Originally Jacobs contemplated matching the Louis-Schmeling winner with Max Baer, this October, but the promoter now doubts whether the former heavyweight champion will attempt a come-back.

The terms for Schmeling's contract with the 20th Century Club finally were agreed upon Saturday in an exchange of cables between Mike Jacobs and Joe Jacobs, who hustled to Germany soon after Louis knocked out Carnera. The "Brown Bomber" already has signed. The principals will split upward of 50 per cent of the "gate."

Vegreville Wins Twelfth Game

VEGREVILLE, July 14.—Vegreville scored their twelfth successive win this evening when they overwhelmed New York hotel nine by a score of 14 to 3.

WINNIPEG July 15.—Weston, 1934 Manitoba soccer champions, will meet Fort Rouge Rangers in the provincial final here Monday night. The railwaymen earned the right to enter the D.F.A. playdowns by defeating Elmwood United, 1-0, Saturday.

MAYFAIR "B" TEAM TAKES HERALD GOLF TROPHY

TONY MANERO TITLE WINNER GOLF TOURNEY

LOOKOUT POINT GOLF CLUB, FONTHILL, Ont., July 15. — Tony Manero, smiling professional from the Sedgefield club of Greensboro, N.C., who "thought it was about time" he won a Canadian tournament, came through Saturday to capture the General Brock hotel open play, but not before a dazzling amateur from Winnipeg almost brought about one of the biggest upsets in major competition.

Manero, unheralded as the likely winner until the final round was under way, took first prize of $750 with a 72-hole total of 291. Junt one stroke away at 292 was Bud Donovan, former Manitoba champion, whose mark stood up against the assault of such stars as Walter Hagen, Ray Mangrum, Clarence Doser and Jimmie Thomson from the United States.

Tied with Donovan with a belated spurt after a disastrous outward nine in the afternoon was Byron Nelson, playing pro from the Ridgewood, N. J., club, who started the final round with a lead of four strokes. He tossed this away, but came within a whisker of tieing Manero by rallying on the last nine and barely missing a birdie three at the home hole.

Bob Alston, Ottawa pro, was low scorer among the Canadian professionals with 294, bolstered by a par-breaking 69 in the morning round, a mark equalled only once in the tournament, when Ray Mangrum was one under par on the opening day.

Competition Ends With Country Club Losing In Finals

Country Club "B" Team Suffers Setback in Final of Event—Good Golf Marks Whole Of Tourney at Mayfair Club

The prized Herald Trophy will remain in a familiar setting for the next year as a result of the competition concluded at Mayfair Golf and Country Club yesterday afternoon.

Following up the success of another Mayfair squad last year, the Mayfair "B" team Sunday triumphed in the final match to retain the coveted silverware for the club across the Saskatchewan.

PLAY FINE GOLF TO WIN TROPHY

The Mayfair "B" aggregation of Lyle Hoar, Reg. Young, Don McLeod and Jack Hoar gave a great account of themselves in whipping Edmonton Golf and Country Club's "B" quartet in the finals.

Everything the winners did was right and they held the upper hand over the entire course. Their handicaps, naturally, played a part in the victory, but it was the consistent golf of the four men on the final 18-hole round that gave them the trophy.

Opposing the Country Club's "B" lineup, the young Mayfair outfit here drew mercilessly all the way and finished deserving winners.

Previously, the new holders of the trophy had defeated Highlands Golf Club representatives and then came back to defeat the "A" team of their own club.

LOSERS COP THREE

The losers earned their way to the final bracket by virtue of victories over Lacombe Country Club, Mayfair Golf and Country Club "D", and the Municipal Club.

Incidentally, the losing squad had members of three generations of the McLean family, these being D. N. McLean, R. D. McLean and D. N. Ross. Fourth member of the team was Morris Stewart.

The entire competition, lasting over Saturday and Sunday, was played under the weather conditions and provided some of the best possible handicap golf.

Following are complete results of the tourney.

FIRST ROUND

Mayfair Golf and Country Club "D" defeated Edmonton Golf and Country Club "C".

Edmonton Golf and Country Club "B" defeated Lacombe Country Club.

Mayfair Golf and Country Club "C" defeated Prince Rupert Golf Club.

SECOND ROUND

Edmonton Golf and Country Club "B" defeated Mayfair Golf and Country Club "D".

Edmonton Municipal defeated Mayfair Golf and Country Club "C".

Mayfair Golf and Country Club "B" defeated Highlands Golf and Country Club.

Mayfair Golf and Country Club "A" defeated Edmonton Golf and Country Club "A."

SEMI-FINAL

Edmonton Golf and Country Club "B" defeated Municipal Golf Club.

Mayfair Golf and Country Club "B" defeated Mayfair Golf and Country Club "A."

FINAL

Mayfair Golf and Country Club "B" defeated Edmonton Golf and Country Club "B."

Personnel of the teams in the final: Mayfair—Lyle Hoar, Reg. Young, Don McLeod, J. G. Hoar. Country Club—D. N. McLean, R. D. McLean, Morris Stewart, D. M. Ross.

Early Bird's Analysis Of Today's Races

First Race: Everything points to CARSO coming out on this race and with the apprentice allowance claimed he has only to reproduce last effort to score. GENERAL SPRINKLER was racing out of his distance last Thursday and over this short route ought to go very close. He has been in better company than this. SASKATOON LAD has improved and will be very hard on a race track once since last August. He certainly ran well at Calgary but his turn may not be yet. Like him for the minor share. Note. It may be a mistake to have left Sunny Marcus out altogether but he is acting erratically just now. At his best he could win here, but he cannot be trusted.

Second Race: Now that Silent Rogue is scratched must place NIKKIS BLOND as the top. She won in impressive style at Victoria Park and was up against a smart Sunny Marcus beaten by Edison in a sprint. LORD WHITTIER is the menace. He has the rails and can stage a good finish at this distance. Ought to, at least, be the runner-up. MAC MACLEOD is coming back to form after being out of sorts. Like him as one to take the minor portion.

Third Race: It is the boy Harris can only ride one side of LAKE LOUISE she is accorded a great opportunity with the "feather" of 90 pounds, especially over this seven-furlong trip. She is well worth a small investment, for if she is ever going to score it surely must be under these favorable conditions. DUSTY MILLER is a "dog" in inspired quarters. A threat and greatly to be feared. PLAYABIT will be prominent and might beat Wise Merle out of the "show" spot.

Fourth Race: Out of several that will be well fancied pick FRENCH MAID to win again. This mare has run up winning sequences before and while she is good she is very good. MARSALA will be ridden by Collins who is on a winning streak just now. Marsala's win on Saturday was impressive and but for her pushing up of 5 pounds she would be put right on top. Feel sure she will not be far from the purse. If BIDOVER gets into the field, he must on no account be made a loser.

Fifth Race: Bobby Thomson has had the pen put through his name which leaves ROYAL FLINT as the selection. This is probably the third best Westerner racing at present and should beat everything. Would not be surprised to see MOONSAN improve today. He is going to take a pot before long but can hardly be given better than second vote this afternoon. WESTYS TIM will give them all an argument but here the horse is placed a close-up third.

Sixth Race: The form book makes for NEVER QUIT who will like this oval better than Victoria Park. He has top burden, but must stay right with him. DUMB DORA has only to be anything like herself to furnish stout contention with 95 pounds. She can stage a good finish at a distance and may be a close-up second. NONPAREIL LAD is approaching a winning race. He should be prominent here and earn a portion of the prize.

Seventh Race: SPANISH KNIGHT comes into prominence after all the scratches have been eliminated. This horse is hardly what he was but is greatly fancied today. FOUNTAIN will be suited by the seven furlongs and gets in light. She is due for sharp improvement soon and Birley's style of riding ought to bring her into the money. PENSWEEP would be better with a stronger pilot but as he is a free-running horse will probably annex a section of the prize.

TWO FAVORED JUNIOR CLUBS WIN IN GAMES

Grits and Safeways Are Winning Teams At Boyle St. Sunday

Army and Navy Grits in the first game defeated Arrow Busses by an 8-5 count, while in the second end of a junior baseball doubleheader, Safeways humbled the Edmonton by a 12-3 score. It was as expected, both Grits and Safeways being favored to end the title, this practically leaves the standings the same with Safeways leading by a small margin.

Owing to the intense heat, both games were inclined to be slow and at times ragged, but the ball busters did their best and their performances were presentable.

RUSTY WYNN STUDY

In the first game, Rusty Wynn spotted his hated rivals, Arrow Busses two runs, but his steady six-hit performance, aided by some timely hitting from his team mates enabled the big righthander to win out.

Poor fielding by the Busses for the most part, helped this take him 14 hits—10 more than their opponents—and featuring the hitting attack were billy Melnyk and Hippo Lutz, each with a trio of solid blows.

BASEBALL'S BIG SIX

The sensational rise of Roger (Doc) Cramer in the American League batting ranks brought another change in the Big Six yesterday as he shifted into a tie with Joe Vosmik for third place. Cramer hit safely four times in five attempts to add four points to his average and bring it up to .338. Vosmik dropped three points to the same level with two hits in nine times up, falling behind Bruce Campbell. Arky Vaughan, leader of the statel, finally checked his drop by hitting two for two and hoisting his five point lead to .366.

MALLES HURLS PONOKA SQUAD INTO 10-5 WIN

Pounding Panthers Whip Wetaskiwin In Game Of Northern Loop

PONOKA, July 15. — Cy Malles pitched his club to a 10-5 victory over Ike Davis' Wetaskiwin team before a thousand ball fans here Sunday afternoon. Backing the great pitching of Cy Malles the Ponoka club permitted only one error following McKinley to reach first, but this was soon covered when Buddy Meyers and Gebert executed a double play. Wetaskiwin opened the score on their first trip to the plate when Kronfield knocked the ball over left field fence for a home run scoring Davis and himself.

The Panthers doubled this count in the last of the first when Malles, Hodges, Meyers and Kip Anderson crossed the plate on three hits, two walks and an error.

The Davis club added one more run to their count in the second when Webber drove a long fly over right field fence for Wetaskiwin's second home run of the game. From the third inning the Panthers rapidly piled up their count in a desperate effort to whip this club who recently stopped them in their seventeenth game of their winning streak. In this stanza Anderson drove out a home run to also score Butler who was on first base, Ponoka also added two in the fourth when Charlie Lewis singled, reached second on Hodges' double and then scored on Butler's two-base hit.

STOPPED 'EM ONCE

Wetaskiwin reached their fifth run when Davis and Kronfield scored. Hodges made Ponoka's ninth run when he scored on an error by the Wetaskiwin club. On Ponoka's last trip to bat, the first three men up filled the bases but Wetaskiwin tightened down and allowed only one run. Charlie Lewis had his club in batting with four hits in five trips to the plate, two doubles and two singles, Ralph Butler followed with three hits in four bats.

Addition of Clint Hodges and Kip Anderson to the Ponoka club has greatly strengthened them and playing manager Cy Malles says he is ready for all comers. Ponoka's next game will probably be with the Edmonton Eskimos in Edmonton this coming Thursday.
